Dedication Dr. William R. Ross President Colorado State College 1948 - 1964

Dr. William R. Ross joined the faculty of Colorado State College in October, 1942, and became President of the College in January, 1948. He will retire at the close of Fall Quarter, 1964. Prior to assuming the presidency Dr. Ross served as Associate Professor of Education and as Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Dr. Ross received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Colorado State University and has done Graduate work at Columbia University. He has since received his Ph.D. from this school.

Dr. Ross' exceptional career has included positions as teacher in the Longmont Public Schools, Superintendent of the Erie, Delta, and Trinidad Public Schools, and president of Trinidad Junior College.

Because of his outstanding record of achievement, a sincere concern for the progress of his students, together with a complete dedication to his field, the Students of Colorado State College, dedicate the 1964 Cache la Poudre to Dr. William R. Ross.

Reflections of Academics.

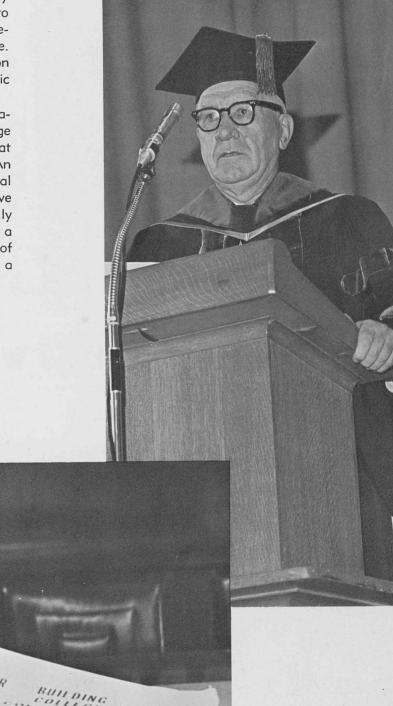

A President Steps Down

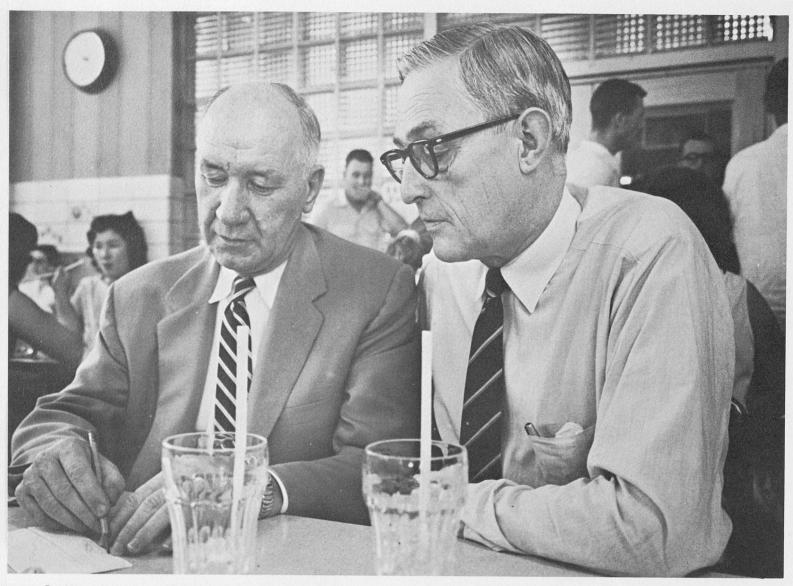

January of 1948 marked the beginning of the administration of Dr. William R. Ross as president of Colorado State College. Now in his sixteenth and final year, President Ross can review his accomplishments with pride and satisfaction. For what was then Colorado State College of Education, a considerably smaller institution devoted almost exclusively to teacher training, has now risen to a position that demands great respect both state-wide and nation-wide. Dr. Ross's administration was one of action—action directed toward the continual upgrading of academic courses, programs, and facilities within the college.

The retiring president's career included participation directly or indirectly in every phase of college life. His congenial personality made him welcome at the formal dinner and the informal bear slide. An avid and enthusiastic member of several professional and private organizations, Dr. Ross played an active role in campus activities. No matter how full his daily schedule, he managed to find extra time to attend a basketball game, chat with students, and take care of the countless duties that surround the busy life of a college president.

His Days Were Long

In his downstairs den the President examines a recently acquired relic.

On Greek Week Fun Day in Fall 1960. Dr. Ross enthusiastically waits for the results of the pieeating contest.

Colorado State College in 1964 is a far cry from its appearance in 1948. During President Ross's administration the face of the campus altered tremendously. To keep pace with the ever-increasing number of students the residence hall area was greatly enlarged. Wilson and Weibking Halls were built to accommodate the population boom. Dr. Ross "engineered" the plans and appropriations for the new administrative building, Frasier Hall. A fully equipped and staffed laboratory school stands out as a major accomplishment attributed to the President's direction and planning. Construction is rapidly moving forward on the new science building and an impressive Student Center is expected to be completed within the next two years. Truly, this is growth toward more growth.

No day in the life of the President was ever an exact replica of the preceding one. Appointments, appearances, meetings, conferences, speeches—all somehow had to be met and dealt with.

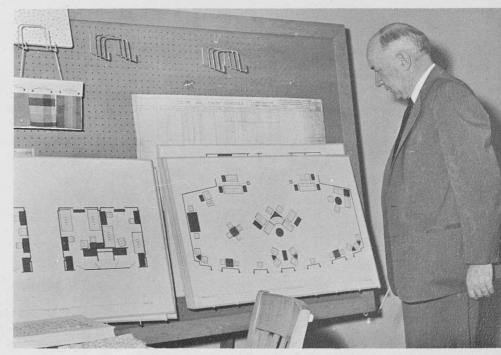

Looking ahead, archaeological classification, travel, ranching, and scientific research will occupy most of Dr. Ross's time after his retirement at the end of fall quarter 1964.

Administration Holds Key to Progress

In 1890, Colorado State College was little more than a concrete foundation marked by a cornerstone and set on an alfalfa hill on the outskirts of Greeley. In 1964, the College occupies three main campuses, each one expanding to meet the needs of CSC's population boom.

Fall of 1963 marked the opening of the first coeducational dormitory on campus. Annie McCowen Hall will soon be followed by several modern residence halls to be constructed on the west campus.

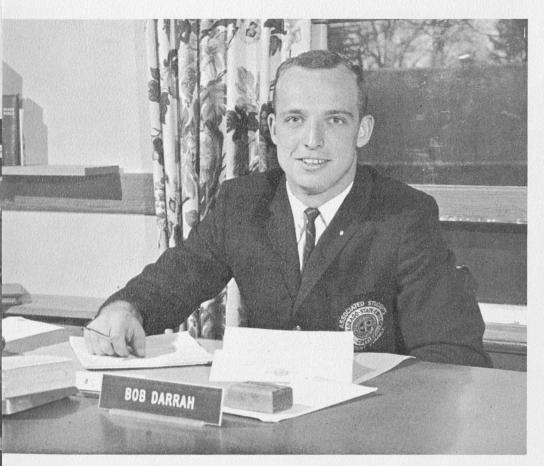

In the spring of the year, blueprints for the new College Center became reality to students as construction began atop Victory Hill. The Center will be a model for buildings of its type for the entire West.

Tentative plans for the next five years include a science building, education buildings, and a gymnasium-field house, all to be built on the west campus. Colorado State College today is a far cry from its humble ambitions of seventy years ago.

How has all of this been possible? The administration—the persons responsible for creating, enacting, and enforcing policies for the school—possesses the key to the progressive expansion of Colorado State College.

ASCSC Holds Referendum Vote Over R.O.T.C. Issue

While the raging battle over compulsory ROTC was fought among students, faculty, and administrators, the Associated Student's Council also took an active part in the dispute. Not only was a resolution passed to support the Young Democrats' negative stand on the issue, but also a referendum election was held on November 14th in order to allow all male students to express their opinions on the subject. The results were overwhelmingly significant; the Council's resolution was passed by a margin of better than 4-to-1, accompanied by a surprisingly large turn-out of voters.

During winter guarter Student Council passed another important resolution with regard to Governor Love's proposed tuition hike. The representatives-atlarge and the four class presidents voted to vigorously support President Ross's "thumbs down" policy.

Through the Artist Series committee, several name entertainers were brought to the campus. Among these were such well-known groups as Joe and Eddie and Leon Bib and the Dillards. Because of a high budget allotment of over $82,000.00, the Student Council manages to efficiently coordinate campus activities and quarterly assemblies.

Student Activities Committee Presents Foreign Art Films

Members of the Student Activities Committee are selected on the basis of applications submitted during spring quarter. The vice president of Associated Students serves as its chairman. Fall activities regulated and supervised by the committee include the All-School Dance during Orientation Week, the Activity-Interest Night, and the yearly Christmas Ball.

Spring quarter meetings are primarily taken up with planning and preparation for the hilarious Hays Picnic on Insignia Day. Throughout the year the committee worked to bring high quality films to the campus for student viewing. Such great classics as "Raintree County" provided worthwhile Saturday night entertainment. In addition, members were instrumental in securing several foreign art films. After the showing of "Wild Strawberries" the results of a campus-wide questionnaire illustrated a surprising degree of anticipation for more of this type of film.

Transfer Council Becomes Official Part of ASCSC

The newly organized Transfer Council accomplished a surprising amount of work during fall quarter and was rewarded with an official place in Associated Students under the jurisdiction of the vice president. The purpose of the Council is to coordinate relations between new transfer students and administration, faculty, and returning students. To achieve this, the group plans a coffee hour at the beginning of each quarter to which new transfers are invited. The fall quarter coffee featured Dr. Crawford of the Speech Department as speaker, followed by a question-answer period during which new students learned proper registration procedure as well as facts about transfer of credits. At these coffee hours the Council secures a list of activities which the new transfers might be interested in, and then submits these lists to the respective organization presidents. Mr. Gary Miller and Mr. Jerry Tanner serve as faculty advisors for the Council.

Transfer Council encourages transfer students to participate in campus activities, such as decorating for campus dances.

The members of AWS Council and Committee whole-heartedly participated in the October drive, "Trick or treat for UNICEF." Seven Greeley churches and two schools volunteered their services. Fourth and fifth grade and junior high students were equipped with milk cartons decorated with a Halloween motif. The total number of donations amounted to $695.00. Later on Halloween night a special Hootenanny was held in Gunter Hall for the benefit of all participating children. As the executive body of Associated Women Students, the ten members of AWS Council regulated and supervised the highly successful drive.

The AWS Activities Committee consists of twelve members selected on the basis of application and interview. The Committee plans all of the activities of the Association throughout the year. On October 19th a picnic was held for all CSC coeds in the dormitory court as a combination get-acquainted and entertainment affair for the new freshman women. "Night School in Fashion," was the theme of the fall AWS fashion show, in which one model from each sorority and Off-Campus Women and faculty participated. The Turnabout Dance held on February 1st was also planned by the Committee.

The Division of the Arts has been taking rapid steps toward improving its equipment, buildings, and courses. Several changes in shops and studios have resulted in increased space and greater facility of instruction.

The Home Management House was relocated on Tenth Avenue and is now known to students as the practice cottage. On campus the Home Economics Department occupies two complete floors in Crabbe Hall, which doubles the previous amount of floorspace for the department. Miss Eileen Dean is the newest member of the departmental staff.

The Industrial Arts Department added Mr. Phillip Gleb to its faculty, and there has been a decided upswing in the number of student majors. With the completion of the Arts Annex during Christmas Vacation of 1962, much of the space in Crabbe Hall was reassigned to the various departments in the Division.

These significant alterations in the Arts Division have accounted for the fifteen per cent increase in students majoring or minoring in the arts.

Education Division Broadens Scope of Programs

Innovations in the professional course requirements have resulted in a more efficiently operated curriculum for the Division of Education. Commensurate to present-day demands, a considerable reduction in the number of credit hours required has been achieved.

The Division of Education includes several subdepartments, among them Business Education, Special Education, and Educational Psychology and Guidance. Many division members are also affiliated with the Educational Planning Service and the Research Bureau, both of which are continually engaged in national projects. This past year EPS was involved with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Phillips University in a project designed to develop a procedure for the use of computers in scheduling classes. EPS offers valuable services in the form of curriculum revision for many secondary and higher scholastic institutions.

In the Special Education Department a graduate program is being developed for the training of vocational rehabilitation counselors. This work is being financed by a grant from the Department of Rehabilitation.

In an earnest attempt to better prepare educators in the fields of health and physical education, the Division of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation has enlarged and improved much of its equipment and a large part of its curriculum. Over 600 college students involved in the HPER program enjoy its greater efficiency.

Since 1959, much needed locker space and office space has been added as a result of the remodeling of Gunter Hall, the main physical education building. The division now looks ahead to occupancy of much of the present student union after completion of the new College Center.

The addition of several new coaches to the teaching staff increased the optimistic outlook on the year's athletic program. Coach George Sage, replacement for basketball coach John Bunn, inaugurated the enthusiasm for a new group of spirit boosters the Colorado State College Pom Pom Girls. Largely through his cooperation, these ten students generated wave after wave of team backing from the basketball and wrestling crowds.

Freshman students taking the common course, Personal Living and Community Health, benefited from a more comprehensive course outline and an added number of professors teaching the class.

Humanities Division Serves 462 Majors

Dr. Graham watches as two foreign language students work out problems in Russian grammar.

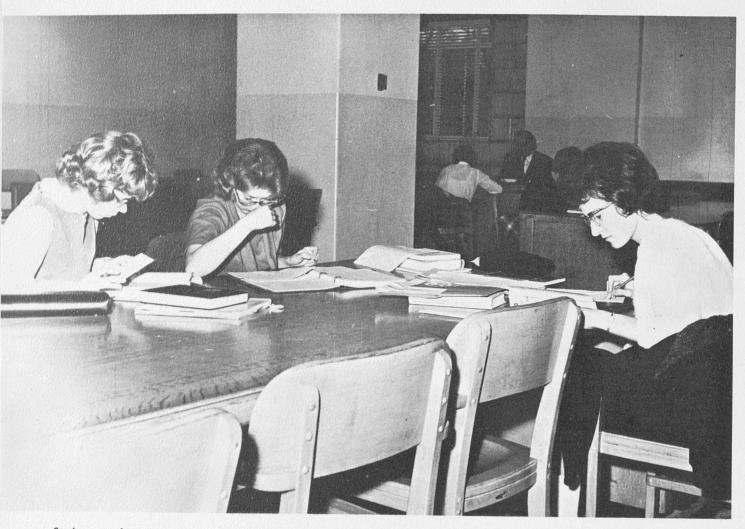

Like all other divisions on campus, the Division of the Humanities has experienced a great upsurge in growth. The current year showed an increase of thirty-five majors over the preceding year and a corresponding increase in the number of students minoring in the humanities. Included in the division are the fields of English, drama, speech, foreign languages, and journalism.

Within the division, courses have been extended in depth and scope, and new graduate courses are now being offered. Second-year Russian was offered for the first time, as was fourth-year German. The relatively new journalism minor attracted thirty-eight interested persons.

Faculty members are eminent in their chosen fields of study. Seven new professors and instructors taught during the past year in the five separate areas of the division.

Mr. Leonard Landry was the recipient of a grant from the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. He is serving as the director of "Project English" No. 1987 of the Cooperative Research Program. Its goal is to correlate traditional and structural grammar to produce a unified high school course of study.

Over the past year a number of improvements have taken place in Carter Hall. The holdings of the College Library now are over 188,000 volumes. The bulk of this count is based on selections made by the faculty throughout the years, with some choices made by the library staff. Weeding is continually being done in order to rid the shelves of any useless "filler."

The Periodicals Department, youngest in the Library, subscribes to 1015 different magazines and pamphlets and to 49 newspapers. Since January of 1963 twenty new periodical subscriptions have been purchased.

The popular Curriculum Library has continued to expand to meet the needs of students studying curriculum planning and development. 1963-64 saw the addition of several new films donated by the Instructional Materials Center and purchased from the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A distinguished professional staff of eleven keeps abreast of the latest developments in the field of librarianship through study, travel, and membership in organizations. The Division of Music offers a variety of courses in music performance, music content, and music education, most of which are directed toward the 165 student music majors. The program at Colorado State College is designed toward developing outstanding musicians and music teachers of the highest calibre. The Division welcomed the addition of Mr. Howard Mickens and Dr. Howard Skinner to the faculty.

Throughout the year the Music Division presented the faculty and students in many recitals and concerts. Included in these were performances by the band, orchestra, choir, and smaller vocal and instrumental ensembles. During fall quarter the CSC Concert and Chamber Choirs presented the annual Christmas Concert. At least three times each quarter students of the college were provided with cultural entertainment sponsored conjointly by the music faculty and majors in the field.

Music majors are required to attend all division recitals.

Newest Division Combines Nursing and Liberal Arts

The nursing program at Colorado State College, which began on a small scale in the fall of 1962, provides its majors and minors with a full four-year education in the liberal arts accompanied by professional nurses' training during the junior and senior years. Upon graduation, the students will receive both a bachelor of arts degree and the rank of registered nurse.

The program was initiated by the Weld County Medical Society and has the support of Weld County General Hospital Authorities and the County Nurses Association. The Division, with 34 sophomores and 7 freshmen, has combined the facilities of the college with those of the General Hospital in Greeley and will officially begin on a grand scale in the Fall of 1964. Already the students have formed the C.S.C. Associated Students of Nursing.

A widely-known Oklahoma nursing official, Miss Elaine McMinn, was appointed chairman of the Division last fall, climaxing months of evaluation of candidates across the nation. Miss McMinn has an excellent background in the field of nursing and has served as educational consultant with the Oklahoma Board of Nursing Education. Assisting Miss McMinn is Mrs. Jean Carlson, Instructor of Medical Surgical Nursing.

Pakistan Extension

Advances Rapidly

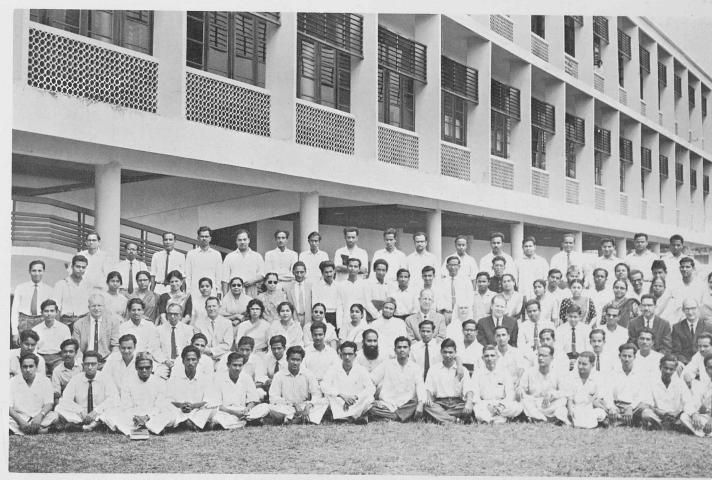

Having just completed its fourth year of development, Colorado State College's extension school in East Pakistan is progressing rapidly. Permanent quarters now under construction will be finished during the summer of 1964.

Developed for the purpose of establishing a graduate school in education at the University in Dacca, the Institute of Education and Research was formed through a contract between Colorado State College and the United States Agency for International Development (AID). Under this agreement, Colorado State College supplies the training and personnel for the Project.

CSC faculty members work closely with the Pakistan officials. Dr. Gil Hause, CSC administrative assistant, is the campus coordinator of the Pakistan Project. In Dacca, Dr. Barton L. Kline is the director of the Institute. Other CSC faculty members serving two-year periods include Dr. Alan R. Elliott, Dr. Kenneth W. Findlay, Dr. P. J. Wisch, and Mrs. Leloine Gunning.

Science Division Undergoes Growth in All Areas

The Division of the Sciences has played an important role in the over-all growth of the college. During the past ten years, all divisional courses have been rewritten or reorganized. New graduate programs were also added this year.

The faculty, too, has helped to push back the frontiers of knowledge. Four new members include distinguished personalities in the fields of the physical sciences and mathematics. Several of the senior members are continuing their research activities: Dr. Sund is director of a National Science Foundation In-Service Institute in Biology and is also linked with Dr. Trowbridge and Dr. Olson in a study of secondary school science teachers and curricula in Colorado in cooperation with the Colorado State Department of Education.

Even more striking is the near-finished science building. This impressive structure will provide much needed space, laboratories, and special facilities. This is one more instance of the thorough expansion within all departments of the division.

The Division of the Social Sciences has selected a highly trained and skilled staff and developed a curriculum related to the life and problems of today's world. Course offerings are broad and varied, and so successful has been the program that the number of majors in the division has nearly doubled in the past six years.

The major new project presented by the division this year is the European Study Tour. To be held during the summer quarter of 1964, the tour will be directed by Dr. Dean Arnold, Professor of European History. This travel-study course involves five weeks of preparatory work on campus in European geography, history, and art. The class will then jet to Europe for a thirty days' study-tour of Western Europe and Great Britain.

Organized under the interdisciplinary course, Social Science 220, "European Contributions to American Culture," the class is open to any student who wishes to become acquainted with the history and intrigue of Europe.

Another new feature in the division is a fully equipped geography laboratory, adequately staffed with highly trained geographers.

Six new faculty members were added to the division's roster to match the upswing in divisional enrollment.

Laboratory School Depicts Progress

Colorado State College's newest academic building, Bishop-Lehr Hall, now stands as the most modern structure of its type in the United States. Direct observation and participation within the classroom as part of the study in methods or observation or as a part of self-directed study, is done in specially constructed work areas adjacent to each classroom.

A unique structure in many ways, the Laboratory School houses the Ernest Horn Elementary School and the College High School, both including kindergarten through twelfth grade. Also part of the building is the Special Education School. The latter is a cooperative project with the Greeley public schools and enrolls physically and mentally handicapped children. The Laboratory School annually allows approximately 100 students to gain their first professional experience.

Audio-visual facilities installed just this year included a closed-circuit television. Serving a dual purpose, the television system is used for student observation and to give college students valuable experience in the broadcasting and televising fields.

Over fifty-five full-time employees—not so often seen by CSC students—are under the general supervision of Mr. David Reichert, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. In addition, thirty students work part-time during the school year as janitors and groundsmen. These hard-working men are responsible for the maintenance of all college buildings, including heating, electricity, cleaning, remodeling, and repair work. All campus lawns and grounds are attended the year round. Special events and activities often involve the services of one or more of the crews. During assemblies, dances, and dramatic productions they work hand in hand with the students in setting up chairs, platforms, and stages.

The academic buildings crew, under the management of Mr. Harold Browning, spent much of fall and winter quarters installing new electrical equipment in Kepner Hall as well as remodeling several offices and rooms within the building. Pending a decision by the Board of Trustees and the state Planning Commission, the crews will commence work on remodeling Cranford Hall in the coming year. Model U.N. Assembly Opens Spring Quarter Activities

The opening of the General Assembly on March 29, 1963, marked the seventh annual CSC Model United Nations, sponsored by the International Relations Club and the Social Studies Division. During this plenary meeting 110 nations gave policy statements of general interest. 220 high school delegates participated in bloc discussions. The main topics of discussion were "Representation of Red China" and "Financial Obligations"; these topics were selected by mail ballots from high school sponsors. International exchange students from Argentina, Australia, the Netherlands, Norway, Peru, the Philippines, and West Germany represented their own countries. The Model U.N. aims at developing a better understanding of the United Nations through study and discussion of international problems. The assembly was under the direction of Dr. Dean Arnold of the Social Studies Division.

Acacia Does It Again

The long hours of practicing brought honorable mention to the Sigma Chi's.

Combining the musical talents and choral arrangements of the Greek organizations, brought about the annual "Greek Songfest."

First place award in the fraternity division for the second consecutive year went to Acacia with their presentation of "Exodus," and second place went to Tau Kappa Epsilon singing "Hava Nagila." Long and tedious weeks of early morning practice resulted in a highly entertaining and rewarding evening for both the participating Greeks and listening audience.

Alpha Delta Pi Takes First

With a beautiful rendition of "Velvet Shoes," Alpha Delta Pi took first place in the annual "Greek Songfest." Tri Sigma received second place with "Bye Bye Blues."

Each group presented their favorite sorority or fraternity song and then a competitive one. They were then judged on adherance to the musical score, interpretation and general group appearance.

Suzi Perry, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Larry Dixon, Sigma Chi, were general chairmen of the April 27, 1963, Greek Songfest presentation in Gunter Hall.

Approximately sixty hopeful girls entered the Miss Colorado State College Contest held last May. During the preliminary judging five semi-finalists were chosen: Miss Linda Crain, Miss Mary Catherine Evans, Miss Donna McKenzie, Miss Gail Wimp and Miss Suzi Perry. Miss Suzi Perry was selected Miss C.S.C.

Miss Gail Wimp was chosen runner-up, and Miss Mary Catherine Evans received the Miss Congeniality title. Miss Perry demonstrated her talent with a vocal rendition of "Out of My Dreams." A native of South Dakota, she represented Colorado State College in the Miss Colorado Contest held in June.

"Hawaii Calls" C. S. C. Students

Spring found the Hawaiian Club importing the island spirit with the presentation of their annual Lei Dance in Gunter Hall. Festive decorations and authentic music blended to create a bewitching atmosphere to the theme of "Hawaii Calls." In keeping with the motif, native dances were provided as entertainment. The cornoration of the queen and the presentation of her attendants were typical of celebrations used to honor Hawaiian royalty. Crowned to reign over the activities was Miss Linda Marugame, from Kailua. Each of her attendants was elected as a queen of a certain nationality race which comprises the Hawaiian and Polynesian population.

Enchantment From The Orient

Traditionally the Junior-Senior Prom is always held in honor of the graduating Seniors and is the last formal dance of the school year. The captivating theme for 1963 was "Sayonara." The Seniors danced to the mellow strings of Mr. Don Smith and Mr. Tommy Dorsey. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Miss Sheryl White. Another highlight was the traditional tapping of the junior and senior men into the honorary Blue Key.

Insignia Day Brings Honors and Awards

Insignia Day, that long awaited all school vacation and beginning of the Senior Graduation events, was an afternoon of fun, memories, food and awards. Afternoon activities began with an assembly in Gunter Hall, which included an opening procession lead by Dr. Ross, administration and faculty members, and the class of 1963 wearing their mortar boards and gowns. Awards included the naming of the ten outstanding senior men and women, outstanding upperclassmen, and students of exceptional quality in the fields of athletics and publications. Also on the agenda was the installation of Bob Darrah as president of the Associated Students, and the announcement of Miss Cache la Poudre, Pat Ahern. The award of outstanding faculty member was presented to Mr. Wayman Walker, director of C.S.C.'s famous Pride of the Rockies Band. Two new scoreboards for Gunter Hall were the Senior Class gift.

Garden Theater is the sight of the annual Associated Students Hays Picnic sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights. Last Spring's picnic, held on May 24, brought competitive games and events, including sack racing and wheelbarrow races and greased pole climbs. The afternoon events brought a five dollar reward to the best greased pole climber. Dinner was also included for the annual "grundie" affair. Members of the CSC faculty were hosts and served at the cafeteria-style dinner. The event traditionally completes the annual Insignia Day activities.

College Life Comes to an End

Numbering four hundred and seventy-two, the class of 1963 said its goodbye to undergraduate college life. Some envisioned a career long planned for; others were not too sure just what the future held in store for them. The graduates received their diplomas amidst a colorful, impressive atmosphere in Garden Theater. Relatives and friends watched the ceremony from folding chairs, blankets, and lounge chairs.

This year's honored speaker, Dr. James A. Mc-Cain, president of Kansas State University, expressed his best hopes for the future of the graduates as teachers and adults. Congratulations and tears of happiness marked the occasion—an unforgettable afternoon for the members of the class of '63.

Communist Speaker Highlights Spring Lectures

Associated Students brings many outstanding speakers to the C.S.C. campus. This past spring Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist, and Danny Rubin, American communist, lectured before large attentive audiences in Gunter Hall. These speakers drew many thoughts and words of controversy on the C.S.C. campus and during their lectures.

. . Fall, 1963 .

Moving In – Confusion and Turmoil!

Many new students looked bewildered and frustrated amid the turmoil of unpacking and unloading as they began their first experience away from home. For the first time they were seeing Colorado State College as a new student and a confused freshman. Impatient fathers and worried mothers hauled in crammed suitcases, heavy trunks, and stuffed animals, seemingly amazed how all could fit in such a small room. Soon farewells were said, and sad, but relieved parents were on their way home. While at the dorms, anxious and excited freshmen eagerly anticipated the week to come. Looking toward the future, the final realization came that they were now a part of Colorado State College.

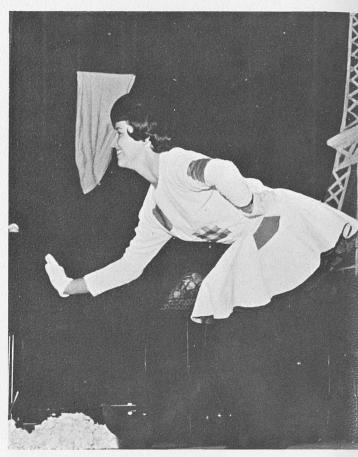

Load after load, home was transmitted to a dorm.

The long lines of paying for books never seem to cease for freshmen during Orientation Week.

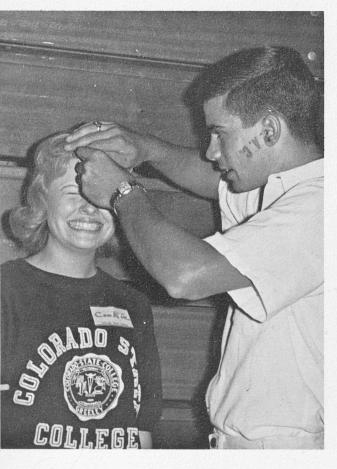

Orientation Introduces Record Class of 1967

This Fall a record-breaking class of 1,024 students invaded the campus to begin their college careers. Their excitement and enthusiasm brought a boom to C.S.C. during Orientation week and much work for their Orientation leaders and the Admissions Office. Upon arrival, their bubbling enthusiasm was somewhat dampened when they donned small gold and purple beanies and heard upperclassmen shout "Button Frosh!" The new freshmen at Colorado State College seemed bewildered and lost at first, but gradually they became acquainted with other Freshmen during registration, dances, and Fun Nite activities. With Orientation Week behind them, freshmen hung their beanies on their bulletin boards, opened books, and settled down to study and to enjoy student life at Colorado State College.

"Moments To Remember in Music" Begins Homecoming Festivities

A series of "firsts" made the 1963 Homecoming celebration, held during the week end of October 11, one of the most memorable in the C.S.C. social history. The "Moments to Remember" events began on the evening of the annual Hellzabruin' show. The program, entitled "Moments to Remember in Music," traced the development of American music from the Negro Spirituals through Modern Jazz. More memories were made during the evening when Dave Larson, general chairman of Homecoming, presented the crown and purple robes of the queen to Miss Donna McKenzie during intermission.

Climaxing the weekend's events the annual semiformal dance, "Reflections in Silhouette," was held in Gunter Hall. The top-name Billy May band played in the men's gym, and the award winning Denver University Stage Band played under the direction of Frank Gagliaro in the ballroom.

"Moments To Remember" Theme for Parade, Floats, Houses

This year's Homecoming parade marked the formal initiation of a new practice expected to become tradition on the C.S.C. Campus. The future Homecoming Queens will travel in a parade on a float especially designed by the Freshman Class. The Saturday parade brought about more memories with the presentation of the Honored alum in Antique cars. The house decorations put all the spirit of Homecoming right in their own front yards. In the "A" division, sororities-Alpha Phi took first place and Sigma Sigma Sigma took second place. The "B" division, dormitories-Cross Hall scored a first place and Belford Hall the second place. In the float competition Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity took first place with their "Wings of Victory" and Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity walked away with second place with the theme "Roll Over the Tigers."

Week Long Activities Unite Greeks

"Greeks on Parade," an active fall affair for all fraternal organizations, marched in for a week of events. Included in the traditional Greek Week are exchange dinners, an assembly, and a fun day. The festivities, which lasted from October first through fifth, were designed to acquaint the Greeks and independents, and to present the Greeks to the campus as a single organized body. Highlighting the event was the Saturday night Greek Ball and the presentation of the "Miss Sorority" and "Mr. Fraternity" awards to Pat Ahern and Terry Beaver. Candidates for the awards were Greeks sponsored by the various fraternal groups.

A D Pi's Take Derby Days Second Consecutive Time

"The Pride of the Prairie" coronation of the Derby Days Queen highlighted the sixth annual Sigma Chi Derby Days held on Gunter Field, October 19. Babs Baberick, representing Alpha Phi sorority was named queen; attendents were Sue Reeves, Alpha Delta Pi; Patty McFaddin, Alpha Gamma Delta; Terry Wilson, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Sharon Lowe, Alpha Sigma Tau; Sue Sanders, Delta Zeta; Judy Batiuk, Sigma Kappa; and Toni Mattson, Sigma Sigma. The day's activities began with a parade from the Sigma Chi Fraternity House to each sorority house picking up each queen candidate with the rest of the group falling in line. Upon arriving at Gunter Field the traditional jean stamping was held and various games and races gave each sorority a chance to compete with each other. At the end of the event-filled afternoon Alpha Delta Pi emerged victorious and became winner of the traveling trophy for the second consecutive year.

IK Carnival Proceeds

Sue Elson expresses a smile of happiness following her selection as IK Sweetheart.

"Frustration" was the theme of the 1963 I.K. Carnival held November 16th in the Student Union Ballroom. The evening was highlighted by the selection of Alpha Sigma Alpha's Ugly Man, Dave Cessna; Knight of Knights, Dennis Morimoto; Spur of the Moment, Jeanne Hovda; and the 1964 IK Sweetheart, Sue Elson. Cross Hall's popular "Jail" was chosen as the best booth. The profits of over one-hundred dollars collected from the more than twenty "Frustrating" booths sponsored by various campus organizations were donated to the AWS UNICEF drive. This UNICEF donation supplemented Associated Women Student's efforts made in raising money for the United Nations Children's Fund. The IK Ugly man candidates sponsored by the sororities were Jim Lang, Delta Zeta; Dave Cessna, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Mick Allen, Sigma Kappa; Paul Melmed, Alpha Gamma Delta; Doug Hammond, Alpha Sigma Tau; and Butch Taylor, Alpha Phi.

Hootenanny Highlights Fall Entertainment

The first professional Hootenanny in the History of Colorado State College began the new Fall Quarter of 1963, with one of the largest and most responsive audiences ever seen on the campus of C.S.C. Headlining the folk song production on October 3 were Bob Gibson, The Wayfarers, Josh White, Jr., and Raun MacKinnon.

Also adding to Fall entertainers for both young and old alike were the Burke Family Singers along with Terry Smith and Sonny McGee.

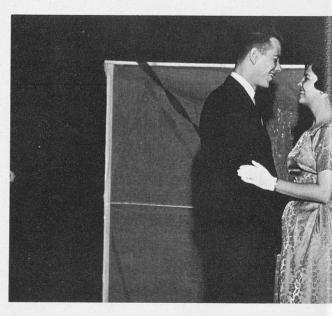

Wishing the campus a "Merry Christmas," Santa Claus appeared over Garden Theater for his yearly visit.

Campus Aglow with Holiday Atmosphere as Quarter Ends

With only a few weeks remaining before the Christmas holidays, the campus was aglow with decorations and students began planning for trips home, final exams, and the 1963 Christmas Ball. This year's Ball, held December 7, followed the theme of "Whispers of Christmas," in Gunter Hall. Musical arrangements were provided by Kai Winding and his famous surfer band, Gary Browning and Don Smith.

The highlight of the evening was the traditional ice carving contest. "The Madonna and Child" brought a first place trophy to the Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity and second place went to the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority for their "Evening Star."

PKD Sponsors Thirteenth Annual Forensics Meet

Colorado State College played host to more than two-hundred debaters January 17 and 18 as Pi Kappa Delta national speech honorary, sponsored its thirteenth Annual Forensics Meet. More than eighteen schools from a six-state area entered debate teams and individuals in the oral matches. Events included both junior and senior debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and oral interpretations, a new addition to this year's tournament. The University of Denver captured first place Sweepstakes Trophy during the debate, while defending champions, the University of Wyoming, took home second place honors; Colorado State College placed third.

Sophomores Enjoy Winter Wonderland

On January 25, a Winter Wonderland came to C.S.C. students when the Sophomore Class presented their "Snow Ball" dance. The semi-formal, all-college event, began at nine and continued until midnight in the Ballroom. Providing the evening's rhythms was the Swingin' Eight combo under the direction of Kit Johnson.

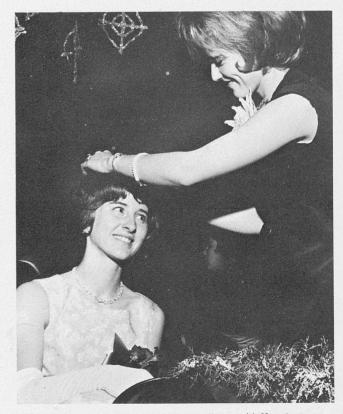

Highlighting the winterland dance was the coronation of the 1964 Sophomore Ball Queen, Linda Waugh. After being crowned by last year's queen, Donna McKenzie, the Royal Miss took her throne on a white sleigh surrounded by evergreens and snowflakes. Attendants to Miss Waugh were Jackie Alverson, Marilynn Churchwell, Marcia Hill, and Charlie Wear.

AWS Turnabout Brings Coed Choice

Kit Johnson's combo provided music for the dance.

Variety is the spice of life and where else could one find variety than at a turnabout "Mardi Gras," and among it's candidates for Associated Women Student's King? Held in the Ballroom, February 1, amid Mardi Gras balloons and masks, five candidates vied for the title of king. They were Tom Bennett, Bruce Dickinson, Gene Hochevar, Dave Larson, and Cecil Moreno. Music for the dance was provided by Kit Johnson's Swingin' Eight combo.

This night also held the traditional Penny-a-Minute night, which extends coed's hours to one-thirty. Proceeds from the fund go to the AWS fund for sponsoring a foster child. Also highlighting intermission ceremonies was the presentation of the Outstanding Faculty Member, as picked by the Associated Women Students. This years outstanding professor was Dr. Sam Freeman, Assistant Professor of English.

Sigma Kappa, Alpha Kappa Lambda Greek Follies Winners

Following a year's absence, Greek Follies returned to campus under the general theme "1963 in Review." The production which took place March 2, in Gunter Hall proved victorious for Sigma Kappa Sorority and Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity. The Sig Kap skit, "Happiness Is," was based on the book of the same title and built around national news events. "A Day to Remember" furnished the background for the AKL contribution. Events of the past year were climaxed with a tribute to the late president John F. Kennedy. Second place trophies went to Alpha Phi Sorority for "Cosa Nostra-Or Organized Crime on Campus" and to Acacia Fraternity for "The Buffumo Affair." Honorable mention places were won by Theta Xi Fraternity and Sigma Sigma Sorority. Co-chairman for the event were Sandra Hock and Dallas Martin.

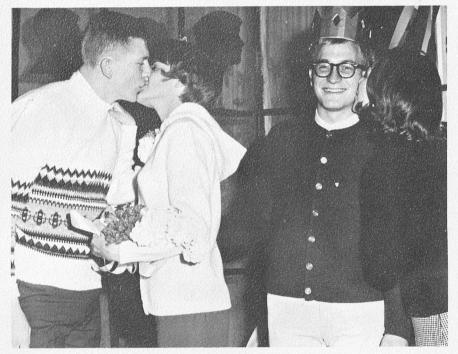

Nancy Brown accepts the second place trophy for Alpha Phi Sorority from Sandy Hock.

Freshmen Dance in "Ski Town – CSC"

The outgoing royalty congratulates the new king and queen, Kent Jackson and Donna Prommel.

"Ski Town—CSC," the Freshman Ball of 1964, was highlighted with a slate of ten royalty candidates. The freshman ball always proves to be one of the best dances of winter quarter and this year was certainly no exception. Members of the freshman council spent many hours planning for the most unique dance in CSC's history, perhaps their biggest project of the year. The Student Union ballroom on the campus was beautifully decorated as a ski lodge carrying their theme with skis, murals, and an artificial fireplace. All people attending the dance were dressed in ski attire. Elected queen and king for the dance were Donna Prommel and Kent Jackson who were crowned by last year's queen and king, Sue Elson and Jerry Flanigan.

The southwest corner of the ballroom was turned into an attractive ski lodge where students paused between dances.

Winter Entertainment Selects Miss Cache la Poudre

Despite its short length, winter quarter still offered a large amount of varied activities. On March 4, a record lecture crowd of 3000 heard Mr. James Meredith, former University of Mississippi student, predict another Civil War if present racial difficulties continue. The Associated Students sponsored Joe and Eddie and Judy Collins, folk singers, on February 17. Before the performance, Joe and Eddie selected Miss Cache la Poudre from the five finalists at a dinner held in their honor. Miss Collins, at the last minute, was unable to attend the dinner. Ending the quarter's entertainment was the appearance by the NORAD Band in the Ballroom on March 2.

Jimmy Broadbent	James Hunt
Sheila Broadbent	Sharon McGinnis
Jane	Mary Catherine Evans
Mabel Crosswaite	Sharon Brown
Clarissa
David Bulloch	William Peters
David Hoylake-Johnston	John Tindall
Mrs. Edgar	Marie Rvan

Love, comedy, romance, and excitement were included in the May 2, 3, 4 Spring 1963 production of "The Reluctant Debutante" by William Home. The play is set in Jimmy Broadbent's flat off Eaton Square. Under the direction of Dr. Helen Langworthy, Mary Catherine Evans portrayed Jane Broadbent, daughter of an upperclass family about to make her debut into the whirl of society. In the play Mrs. Broadbent, Jane's mother, attempts to instigate a romance between her daughter and a young nobleman, but her plans go awry. John Tindall, in the character of David Hoylake-Johnston, a young philanderer, becomes the object of Jane's affections. The incidents and actions which follow are both amusing and entertaining. Settings were designed by Dr. Welby Wolfe.

Sheila, and Clarissa, played by Sandra Shantz, find the events of the evening rather amusing.

Miss Casewell	Norleen Wingerter
Mr. Paravicini	Paul Abel
Sergeant Trotter	James Hunt

The Little Theatre of the Rockies opened the 1963-64 season on November 7, 8 and 9 with Agatha Christie's thrilling murder mystery, "The Mousetrap." The action of the play is set in a lonely manor in snowbound, rural England where a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Giles Ralston, run a small hotel. The first guests arrive, each one highly secretive and suspicious. Each guest becomes alarmed when Detective Sergeant Trotter arrives on skis over the snowdrifted countryside to interrogate them about a murder. All of them, including the hotel operators, seem to have a connection with a strange London killing. It is soon apparent that one of the guests is the psychotic murderer of the London victim. After a number of false clues, that point suspicion at everyone, plus another murder, the third intended victim and the true murderer are unmasked.

The guests at Monkswell Manor are surprised at the arrival of Sergeant Trotter.

Miss Casewell and Major Metcalf discover the psychotic murderer.

Jim Hunt, as Detective Sergeant Trotter, interrogates Miss Casewell, portrayed by Norleen Wingerter.

The Little Theatre of the Rockies produced Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," on February 27, 28 and 29. The play is set in Salem during the Witchcraft Trials of 1692.

Dallas Martin and Patricia Puckett as John and Elizabeth Proctor, and Linda Crain as Abigail brought to the stage the dramatic conflict which affected the home of the Proctor's and the lives of everyone in the community. Abigail's struggle to win the love of a married man and to conceal her guilt plus John's determination to protect his family and friends from the unjust accusations of witchcraft resulted in a terrifying and tragic ending.

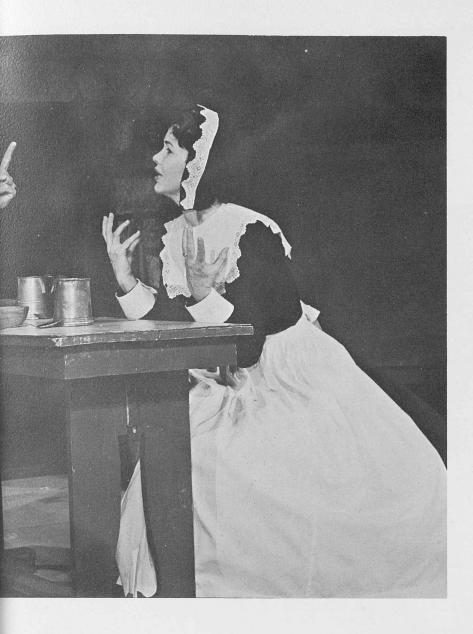

Dallas Martin as John Proctor reminds Elizabeth, Patricia Puckett, that he will not believe her suspicions.

Elizabeth and Mr. Hale are taken by surprise when Cheever accuses her of being a witch.

The court is in stark fright because of Abigail's vision of a huge bird on a rafter.

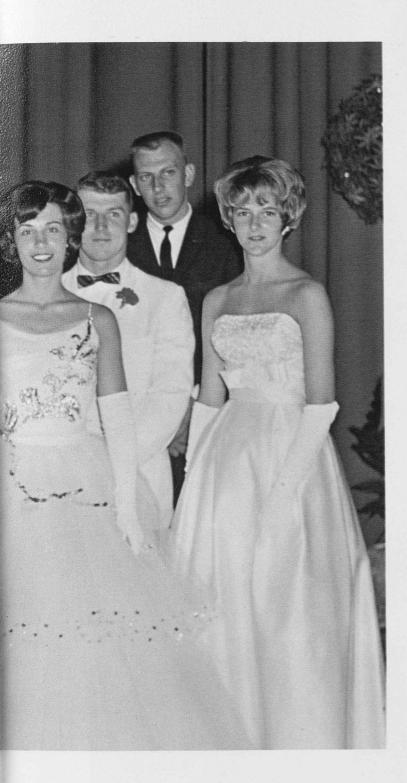

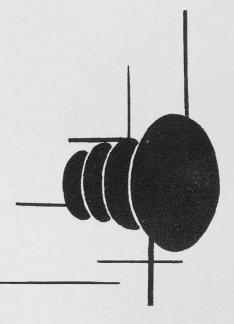

John Proctor defies the court and stands beside his friends.

One of the favorite pastimes of the students on the CSC campus is attending dances that flourish continually throughout the year. Each dance, whether a large formal one like the Christmas Ball or a simple bearslide, takes many hours of preparation. Almost every weekend students can usually be seen in the Student Union Ballroom hanging streamers, painting murals, and cutting forms to be used to make their dance decorations ones long to be remembered. Dancers are taken to the "Mardi Gras" or to a ski lodge to dance away their moments under the beautiful decorations prepared by the students.

> Dona Froman discovers one of the hardships of decorating.

Cache la Poudre Reflects Memories of Past Year

Between three and five each weekday afternoon, Room 101 in the Student Union hums with activity. An editorial staff of eight, reorganized last spring by act of Council, works along with assistants to produce a yearbook that will accurately record and reflect the memorable events of the year.

The five delegates to the fall Associated Collegiate Press Convention in New York City brought back many creative ideas for a better annual. Putting these "brainstorms" into workable form was a matter of much haggling, but as winter quarter began, the production chart showed progress—each blocked red square was a miniature triumph. Deadlines approached and signs covered the walls of the office. "Pages, pages, pages"—became the slogan. The first week of Spring quarter generated a frantic spurt of energy to get the final pages done. Somehow the last shipment was sealed and sent. Insignia Day finally came and brought with it our yearbooks, the result of nine months of hard work and worry—and fun in between. Staff members take a break for a short "editors' meeting" with their editor.

Mirror Staff Revamps, Expands Weekly Issues

A 40-page special freshman issue, a unique 45th anniversary edition, a special elections issue, plus the use of color in six editions, highlighted the 1963-64 year as the Mirror expanded under a revamped system of organization.

Deadlines were pushed back a day to allow for the added number of pages in each issue, causing staff members to "burn the midnight oil." The 63-64 staff produced a paper that averaged 16 to 20 pages per week while the previous year the paper averaged 12 pages. A literary section was another new feature initiated to provide a wide variety of media to read. NOVA, as the section was entitled, carried with it short stories, poems, sketches, and photographs.

The Mirror is one of the few college papers across the nation to pay its editorial staff. Being free from administrative control, the Mirror has proven itself to be one of the top college newspapers in the nation because of a dedication the new staff vowed . . . "To be the finest."

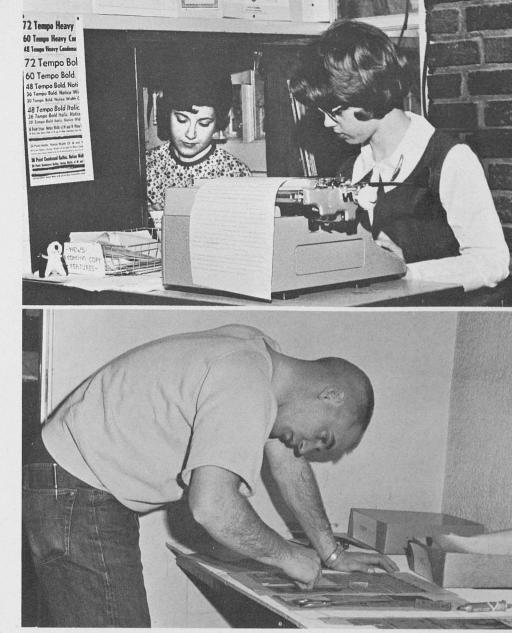

Mearl Grabill cuts the cake as the Mirror celebrated its 45th anniversary on February 28.

Receiving their charter from the National Interfraternity Council in 1957 the legislative, executive and judicial branches have worked well enough together to be recognized as one of the top Interfraternity Councils in the Western Regional. During the year the men co-sponsor with Panhellenic several activities to promote the Greek system, such as songfest, Greek-Week, Greek Follies and Formal Rush. Each year delegates are sent to the Western Regional Conference, and the National Interfraternity Congress. The CSC chapter presents each year the Allen R. Elliott Scholarship to an outstanding undergraduate Greek, and the Scholar-Athlete Award to the most deserving graduating Greek.

To maintain on a high plane of fraternity life and interfraternity relationships, to cooperate with college authorities in their effort to maintain high social and scholastic standards throughout the whole college, and to be a forum for the discussion of questions —these are the goals of Panhellenic Council. Membership consists of two women from each sorority. During the year the women are very busy planning formal rush, Greek Week activities, Songfest, exchange dinners, and Panhellenic Tea. Working closely with Interfraternity Council they plan Greek follies, and co-educational intramurals. At the end of the year a trophy is awarded to the sorority which has maintained the highest grade average for the past three quarters.

Alpha Delta Pi First in Songfest

The Delta Chi Chapter of Alpha Delta Pi was established at CSC in 1963, and the original chapter was founded at Wesley College, Macon, Georgia, in 1926. Having an event-filled fall quarter the women took part in Homecoming and won the Sigma Chi Derby days for the second consecutive time. Also, during the fall, they held an open house for Mrs. Waller, House mother. Winter quarter found the women eagerly practicing for their Greek Follies production, a take off on "Rush." Placing first in songfest, singing "Sand in My Shoes," a Mountain party at the Y-Camp in Estes Park, and the dinner dance at the Pinehurst Country Club rounded out the busy year. Their national philanthropic project is mental retardation drive and the local project is a Blood Drive.

Acacia was founded at the University of Michigan in 1904 and the CSC chapter was established in 1956. Since that time the brotherhood has maintained high scholastic achievement and has participated actively in campus affairs. Singing "Exodus," the men captured a second consecutive win at songfest. Fall quarter was a busy one with Homecoming and the "Playboy" rush party at the Country Club. Greek Follies and songfest were among the winter activities, highlighted by the selection of their sweetheart at the "Night on the Nile" dinner dance. A Mountain party in the spring ended an event-filled year for the brothers. The men sponsor a Mother's Club and are presently organizing a club for pinmates and fiancees.

The Epsilon lota Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was established on the CSC campus in 1959. Prior to this time the sorority was known as Theta Sigma Upsi-Ion. The original chapter was founded at Syracuse University in 1904. The women have maintained the highest grade point average on campus for winter and spring quarters of 1963 and for fall quarter of 1964. A busy fall schedule included a Homecoming Tea for the Alumni and a Christmas party for the mentally retarded children in the Greeley area. The "Great Train Robbery," production for Greek Follies, a pledge dance and mountain party at the Estes Park Y-Camp all took a lot of planning and hard work. Closing off an eventful year with songfest and a spring dinner dance, at the Continental in Denver, another successful year has passed.

Alpha Kappa Lambda Scores Victory in Greek Follies

Alpha Kappa Lambda founded at the University of California in 1914 is the only national fraternity that was founded on the West coast and moved East. Established at CSC in 1956 the Upsilon Chapter has engaged in active spirit on the campus. During the fall quarter the men engaged in Homecoming activities, gave a donation to UNICEF, and sponsored a Christmas party. Winter quarter was highlighted with a first place win with the Greek Follies production, "A Day to Remember"; spring quarter was highlighted by songfest. The Birddogger's Ball, spring quarter, rounded out an exciting year. This year AKL is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary with the theme "AKL is on the Move." The men took second place with their Homecoming float, "The Trojan Horse— Roll Over the Tigers." During the past summer the national offices moved to Fort Collins.

Alpha Phi Decorations Win First

Alpha Phi Sorority was originally founded at Syracuse University in 1872. The sorority was established on the CSC campus in 1960 when Pi Kappa Sigma became Alpha Phi. During the fall the women hosted a tea for the House Mothers, sold Hawaiian Orchid corsages for the Christmas Ball. The quarter was highlighted for the Alpha Phi's when they took first place with their Homecoming decorations "Rock to Victory with Vigah." The winter quarter pledges sponsored the annual Twirp Ball, and a mountain party drew the quarter to a close. Spring events brought songfest, a mountain party and dinner dance. Cardiac aid constitutes their philanthropic project. This year the women also won the National Gold Certificate for excellence in scholarship.

Sororities Compete in Sigma Chi Derby Days

Anelda—the pet alligator gets a helping hand from her "brothers," The Sigma Chi Social Fraternity was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio in 1855. Established on the CSC campus in 1958 the Epsilon Pi chapter has been active in campus events. Fall quarter was highlighted with the tremendous success of Derby Days. A coketail party was held winter quarter for the actives and new pledges. Spring quarter was a busy one with songfest and annual Taboma Ball. The climax of their social calendar is the "Sweetheart Weekend" dinner dance and mountain party a memoriable time for all. Upholding a fine intramural record the Sigma Chi's took second in football and were the 1963 softball champions. The men also participated in bowling, volleyball and basketball.

Alpha Sigma Alpha Helps Retarded Children

At Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, Alpha Sigma Alpha was founded in 1901 and the Beta Beta Chapter was established here on the CSC campus in 1916. Another busy year of activity found the Alpha Sig's sponsoring the Sadie Hawkins Dance, a popular campus event and selecting the "Ugly" Man for the year. During winter quarter the women were busy getting ready for a "Hootenanny" performance at Greek Follies. Spring was hectic; but a lot of fun as they finished off the year with the annual mountain party, songfest, and annual dinner dance. Sigma Phi Epsilon Receives Scholarship Cup

The Colorado Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was established here at CSC in 1952. The original chapter was founded at Richmond, Virginia, in 1901. This year the men upheld a fine intramural record winning in football, placing second in volleyball and participating also in basketball, track, softball, tennis and swimming. The new "Doubenmire" trophy was awarded to them for being first in intramurals. Fall activities included the Viking Party, and a Christmas Party for the underprivileged children in the Greeley area. A ski party at Georgetown highlighted the winter events. A mountain party and spring dinner dance rounded out the eventful year. Daughters of the Black Heart Serve Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Daughters of the Black Heart were organized in November of 1962. Each year at the Sigma Phi Epsilon "Violets and Roses Ball," ten girls are chosen as Daughters. At the time of their selection they are given a black-heart lavaliere as a sign of their distinction. "Representing the Brotherhood of Colorado Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon . . . therefore let all Sigma Phi Epsilons recognize in her the ideals of womanhood—this is basic motto of the Daughters. The girls are chosen for one year and help with rush, teas, and the various social functions the fraternity sponsors throughout the year. The Daughters meet approximately once a month and discuss projects for the year and offer suggestions to the fraternity. The fraternity sweetheart serves as president of the group and the Sig Ep housemother is an honorary member.

DZ's prove hard work can be fun as they work on homecoming house decorations.

In 1902 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, Delta Zeta was originally founded. The Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta was established on the CSC campus in 1957. Since their establishment the women have participated in many campus and chapter events. Fall quarter activities included a Homecoming Alumni Tea, and their main philanthropic project a Christmas party for underprivileged children which was co-sponsored with Tau Kappa Epsilon. "1963 B.C.," their theme for Greek Follies and formal rush were among winter events. Spring brought the annual mountain party, the Senior Farewell, and the "Rose Dinner Dance" held at the Mount Vernon Country Club in Denver. At this dance an outstanding senior woman is chosen as queen.

The Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity was originally founded in Bloomington, Illinois, in 1899, and the Delta Delta Chapter was established here at CSC in 1953. The men of TKE have had another eventful year of campus and Greek activity. During fall quarter, the brothers banded together and carried home the first place trophy in the Homecoming Float Competition. Winter brought the Red Carnation Ball at which time a new sweetheart was chosen, and also the annual Pledge Dance. Spring quarter activities included a Dinner Dance and an exciting Riverboat Race down the Platte River. They upheld a fine intramural record taking second place in all-school swimming meet and second in fraternity volleyball. Special projects included a blood bank for the fraternity and the community and the unique Munich Mothers Marching Band.

Never a Dull Moment for Housemothers

On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons Dean Stuckey and Dean Oppelt meet respectively with the fraternity and sorority housemothers. During these meetings such topics as the philosophy of housing, what is happening on campus academically and socially, and also how to handle various problems concerning the students are discussed. On several Saturday evenings during the year the housemothers enjoy eating out at the various restaurants in Greeley. They enjoy playing bridge and attending concerts together. Various activities keep their students busy, and thus a housemother never has a dull moment.

Sigma Sigma Sorority was originally founded in 1898 at Farmville, Virginia. In 1915 the lota Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma was established here on the CSC campus. The Sigma Sigma Sigmas placed in several campus events this year including a second place in Homecoming Decorations, second place in songfest, and won the Volleyball championship. A busy fall schedule included Homecoming Alumni Tea, Thanksgiving baskets to needy families and caroling at the hospital, and a Christmas party for the children at the Cerebral Palsy Center. The annual mountain party and pledge dance highlighted the winter season. Spring brought the dinner dance, songfest and Greek Follies. Their Philanthropic project is the Robbie Page Memorial for those afflicted with polio at Chapple Hill, North Carolina.

Who's Who Names Twenty-seven

A total of twelve women and fifteen men from CSC's Junior and Senior classes were selected by a six-student committee and approved by a faculty committee and the national screening board for "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." Selection was based on scholarship, leadership, service to the school, and extra-curricular activities.

MICK ALLEN, a junior social studies major from Denver, serves on the Associated Student's Council as publications chairman. Mick has served as past president of Intercollegiate Knights and is the newly-elected president of Blue Key honorary. A member of Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity, he has also served as business manager of the Mirror, orientation leader, and a member of Alpha Phi Gamma journalism honorary. Mick carries a grade point average of 3.9.

KAREN BABBITT, serving her third year as Associated Student's secretary, is a senior from Rapid City, So. Dakota. With a grade point average of 4.5 Karen has been active in Gold Key, Angel Flight, SPURS, Pi Lambda Theta, Kappa Delta Pi, Delta Zeta social sorority, and as past AWS treasurer. Her other honors have included Blue Key Sweetheart, Homecoming Queen attendant, Sophomore Ball Queen, and an outstanding freshman woman award.

BONNIE BARBER, Wheat Ridge senior with a business education major and grade point average of 3.6, has served as a member of AWS Activities Committee, Associated Student's Council, Panhellenic Council, Home Economics Club, and as a cheerleader during her sophomore and junior years. Bonnie's other activities have included Delta Zeta social sorority of which she served as this year's president and being named an attendant to the Junior Prom Queen and a candidate for Miss Sorority.

TERRY BEAVER, biology and physical education major from Helena, Montana, carries a grade point average of 4.4. Terry is a past member of the Freshman basketball team and Interfraternity Council. As president of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity other activities during his senior year have included Lambda Sigma Tau, Kappa Delta Pi, and Blue Key honoraries, and being named Mr. Fraternity.

BOB BROWN, a senior social studies major from Woodbine, Iowa, is president of the Senior class and a member of the Associated Student's Council. Bob has been a member of Intercollegiate Knights and Blue Key honoraries and Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. Serving two years as secretary of Interfraternity Council, Bob carries a 3.9 grade point average.

NANCY BROWN, Denver senior carries a foreign language major and a 4.5 grade point average. Nancy's activities and awards have included Panhellenic Council, Alpha Phi social sorority, Wesley Foundation, Phi Sigma lota, Miss Cache la Poudre finalist, and an outstanding junior woman award. She has held offices in Pi Lambda Theta, Kappa Delta Pi, and Gold Key honoraries, and Associated Women Students.

DON BUCK, a junior business major from San Angelo, Texas, is perhaps best known as business manager of the Associated Students. A cadet in the advanced AFROTC program, Don is a member of Arnold Air Society, Blue Key honorary, and Associated Student's Council. A past member of Intercollegiate Knights, he carries a grade point average of 3.8.

BOB DARRAH, President of the Associated Students, is a senior social studies major from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Carying a grade point average of 3.9, Bob has served as a residence hall officer, Blue Key treasurer, and as a past member of Intercollegiate Knights and Student Activities Committee. A member of Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity, he has served as president and pledge trainer of that organization.

CLIFF HOFWOLT, President of the Colorado Collegiate Association, is a chemistry major from Palisade. Cliff has been on the Dean's Honor List and was a 1963 Who's Who selection. He has held offices in Troxel Hall, Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity, Intercollegiate Knights, and Blue Key. Carrying a 4.0 grade point average, Cliff's other activities and honors have included president of the Junior class, and membership in Lambda Sigma Tau, Transfer Council, and Associated Student's Council. He was also a Freshman Ball King attendant.

This is an exciting year for the women of Angel Flight; not only have they served the college, but they have also achieved national affiliation because of their fine leadership and service to CSC. The women have two yearly projects, a Girl Scout Troop, and an Indian Reservation in New Mexico. The Angels can be seen in their blue uniforms selling tickets for AWS functions, ushering at various activities, being at Ballot Stations, marching in the president's Review and the Homecoming Parade. Practicing in the Men's Gym at six o'clock in the morning finds the Angels prepared for regional drill meets at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, each year. Auxiliary to Arnold Air Society, the honorary organization selects members on the basis of personality, leadership, poise, appearance, and scholarship.

Cornell J. Lupear Squadron is an honorary professional service fraternity for outstanding AFROTC cadets. Advanced AFROTC cadets are chosen on the basis of aptitude, leadership, interest and ability to serve the ROTC program. The men apply and are tapped during fall and winter quarters. Some of the service activities this year were sponsoring Angel Flight, Drill Team, Color Guard, and Rifle Team. This year during spring quarter a military banquet was held in place of the annual Military Ball. The men also supported a money making project. During spring quarter they sold tickets on a raffle for a free half-hour flight around the Greeley area.

Every quarter the outstanding junior and senior men are tapped into Blue Key on the merits of their leadership, scholarship and service to the school. This year the men co-sponsored the Homecoming Activities, the Blue Key Bookstore, and the Mid-Year Education Conference section for high school students with the women of Gold Key. At the winter quarter banquet held at Lake Shore Supper Club, Jane Mc-Phetres was crowned Blue Key Sweetheart and will serve as secretary for the men during the year. This year due to the efforts of Blue Key, Student Directories were printed and assembled in book form. They were sold in the Blue Key Bookstore and at the Activities Office. "Continually Striving—We Attain," is the motto of the women of Delta Omicron. Fostering fellowship, promoting good citizenship, encouraging individual performance in music and encouraging good scholarship are the ideals toward which they strive. The CSC chapter was founded in 1937 and is the second oldest chapter in Colorado. Members serve a valuable function on the campus by acting as guides and hostesses at all college concerts, recitals, and at performances of the Greeley Concert Association. Winter quarter pledge ceremonies were held, with a tea following. The members also participated in a joint recital winter quarter with the men of Phi Mu Alpha. Each year Delta Omicron holds a Valentine Breakfast in Western Lounge.

The honorary art fraternity, Delta Phi Delta, recognizes top scholastic ability in the arts and strives to further art as a whole. One of the Alpha Gamma chapter's most important projects during the year is designing Christmas cards for sale to all students. At different times throughout the year the members assemble displays in the cases in the library. A cultural exchange is held between the Industrial Arts, Fine Arts, and the Home Economics Division during winter quarter. A Founder's Day Banquet was held during the fall quarter. Spring quarter found some of the members enjoying the artistic qualities of the out-ofdoors while others enjoyed preparing food for spring and summer menus. The Alpha Alpha chapter of Tau Beta Sigma was organized in 1950 on the CSC campus. Members of Tau Beta Sigma spent a busy year making plans for the National convention of Tau Beta Sigma's and Kappa Kappa Psi's. The convention held here on campus in May included members from a five state area. Guest speakers and conductors were present to aid the members in the different musical fields. This year the women have been working to install an alumni chapter in Greeley. For a money making project the women sold candy fall quarter and while they were on band tour. Also during the year they sold tapes, and records of the band. All State Band, spring quarter, found the members busily organizing housing, scheduling auditions, and helping to organize the various bands of the high school students.

The music rooms in Frasier Hall provide ample meeting space for Tau Beta Sigma.

As a national honorary professional fraternity Pi Lambda Theta strives for a clear understanding of local, state, national, and international problems, working to further the cause of democracy encouraging graduate work, intercultural understandings and research. A host of well-known speakers were featured at the monthly meetings. Dr. Grace Wilson, whose topic was "Aims and Values of Pi Lambda Theta," Dr. Graham, spoke on "Education in Europe," Dr. Frank Lakin discussed "Graduate School," and Dr. Blanchard spoke on "Guidance in the Classroom," and "The Gifted and the Retarded Child." Special panels included the topics of "Special Education," and the "Role of the Principal." During fall quarter the women held a Get-Acquainted Tea and initiated new members at a banquet. Starting off the new school year under controversy, Detachment 100 adopted a new program. Installed on the Colorado State College campus in the fall of 1951 on a compulsory basis, the detachment switched over to a voluntary program which will become effective in the fall of 1964. Each year the detachment staff and personnel undergo numerous teaching activities to help prepare each cadet to become a leader. The staff teaches classes in Aerospace Power, Officer Development, and Flight Instruction to qualified cadets. In addition to the courses offered the detachment sponsors such groups as the Drill Team, Rifle Team, and the AFROTC Band.

Because of the prejudice against kindergarten teachers A.C.E. started out as a secret organization for kindergarten teachers. Today it has become the student branch of the international professional organization and is open to those interested in the education of the elementary school child. Throughout the year guest speakers included: Dr. Popejoy who spoke to the group on "Math in the Elementary School," Dr. Lowery on the "Future of Reading," and the "SRA Method," Mr. Tryba discussed making art work attractive to the student and also showed his slides of England. During fall quarter several of the members attended the Colorado Education Association Convention in Denver. The Pakistan project was discussed at a fall ACE meeting.

The Colorado State College Chapter of the American Chemical Society has as its main purpose to afford opportunity for preparing and presenting new methods and technical material to the group. Current chemistry topics and fun quiz sessions make up most of the agenda at their weekly meetings. A wellknown Chemist, Dr. Les Simms, from the University of Illinois, gave an inspiring speech fall quarter on "Kenetics." Winter quarter, the men toured the Marathon Oil Company in Denver at which time many new methods of the oil refining process were explained and demonstrated. The American Chemical Society's National Convention was held during the spring in Denver. A May picnic closed another successful year for the Chemists.

Council for Exceptional Children Sells Corsages

President Jim Tawney Vice President Leo Kelly Secretary-Recording Bonnie Swisher Secretary-Corresponding Ruby Hasegawa Treasurer Ron Archer

Membership in the Council for Exceptional Children is unique in that it consists of both faculty and students. The organization is seldom found on college campuses; nationally it helps to increase knowledge and understanding of emotionally disturbed and gifted children. As this years money making project Christmas Corsages were sold outside of Bru Inn. Dr. Charles O'Neidt, Professor from CSU spoke on the "Gifted Child" fall quarter. Winter quarter Dr. Bruster Miller who is associated with the United Cerebral Palsy discussed major research in his field. A panel of four representing Welfare, Employment, Public Health, and Vocational Rehabilitation discussed job opportunities for the exceptionally handicapped. Winter quarter members of the Weld County Service Agencies spoke to CEC concerning Special Education work.

Bjorn Ski Club Enjoys Slopes and Lakes

Boasting one of the largest memberships on the CSC campus is the Bjorn Ski Club with the goal of increasing interest and activities in the sport. Membership is open to everyone regardless of skiing skill. During the year the members enjoy ski trips, movies, guest speakers, functions with other colleges, free ski instruction in the Modern Austrian technique, and the selection of a "Stretch Pants Queen." A very enjoyable winter quarter found the members planning and taking ski trips to Aspen, Breckenridge, and Medicine Bow, Wyoming. Spring quarter, when the snow is gone and the sun gives off its warm golden rays, the members will be found water skiing at the lakes in the surrounding area. Regular meetings of the club are held on Wednesday evenings with a social hour following.

"C" Club Promotes Intramurals

A heated battle took place between the Freshman team and the Varsity during the first Hall of Fame Game.

The "C" Club is a service organization organized in 1950 whose requirements for membership are earning an athletic letter and the maintainance of good sportsmanship, scholarship, character, ability, leadership, and service.

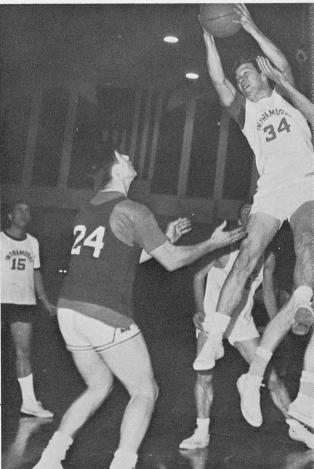

From the money taken for admission for the annual Hall of Fame game held in Gunter's Men's Gym. The men of "C" Club were able to pay off their pledge to the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts. With each payment of their pledge, the members are allowed to select a deserving person to be listed on the Naismith Hall of Fame.

During the football season, members of the "C" Club circulate throughout the bleachers selling refreshments and programs. They also take turns operating the concession stand.

Math Club Hosts Various Speakers

President Barbara Jones Vice President Mark Maxwell Secretary Sheryl DeMarcus Treasurer Curt Miller

Furthering the interest in mathematics for mathematics for math majors and minors at CSC is the objective of Math Club members. Because of their enthusiasm and interest in math, membership has increased fifty percent over last year's total. A variety of speakers during the year helped the members to realize even more the need for furthering their education in the field of mathematics. Mr. Swain, Head Data Processor at the Denver Bureau of Reclamation spoke on the "Use of Computers," Dr. Fry discussed the "Halo Program," and Dr. Popejoy highlighted the "Implications of Modern Arithmetic in the Secondary Schools." The fun and frolic of the annual Mathematics Party closed the enlightening year for the members.

The purpose of Deutscher Verein is to create an interest in the culture and people of West Germany. The club has been on campus for three years under the sponsorship of Dr. Garland Baer. During the year the fifteen members work with the students of Greeley High School who are interested in learning the German language. Mrs. V. McDonald spoke to the members fall quarter about the Audio-lingual method of teaching foreign languages, and Dr. Kelly spoke about his trip to Germany supplementing the speech with interesting slides. Suzi Sperlich, from Austria, spoke about her country. Rounding out the year, the members sampled some German food and listened to German music.

Sociedad Hispanica Enjoys" A Night in Acapulco"

President Jose Solano Vice-President Florida Martinez Secretary Rose Mary Roybal Treasurer Peggy Griem

Composed of those students who wish to further their interests in the Spanish language and in the background and cultural heritage of the Spanish people, Sociedad Hispanica strives to interest the Spanish speaking students on the campus. The club was founded in 1951 by Dr. Martin Candelaria. Each year their busy schedule offers a wide variation of activity. Fall quarter the annual Mexican Dinner was a festive success held in Western and Panel Lounges. A first place win was achieved by the members in the B Division of the Homecoming Float Competition. Guest speakers Father Vesga, Ron Alcazar, and Paul La Rosa gave talks on their respective countries, Spain, Bolivia, and Cuba. A spring quarter dance "A Night in Acapulco" was enjoyed by all. Upon retirement last spring, Dr. Martin Candelaria receives an award for 12 outstanding years as sponsor of Spanish Club.

Fine Arts majors and minors and any persons interested in the field are eligible for membership into the Fine Arts Club. Quarterly activities include guest speakers and visits to art museums and also sketching trips. This year Mr. Ball spoke on his travels in Scandinavia, Caroline King on her tour of Sweden, and Robert Taylor, commercial artist from Denver, discussed the possibilities of commercial artists. The members are in charge of organizing and sponsoring the annual Colorado Intercollegiate Art Exhibit held April 12-17. Anyone attending a state-supported school can enter the show. The money raised from the spring quarter movie "Grapes of Wrath" aided the members in presenting a fine Intercollegiate Art Exhibit.

The Grace Wilson Chapter of SEA is the student level of the National Education Association. By means of the club's activities, members are able to prepare for the teaching profession by attending informative programs and NEA and SEA Conventions. The CSC chapter holds three state offices—President, Tim Scates; Secretary, Betty Wezel; and Director at Large, John Acosta. Various programs included: Dr. Ross speaking on "Pleasures of Teaching," Director of the State Board of Certification, Dr. Ruff, discussed "License to Teach," and Dr. Frease speaking on his Korean trip. In the spring the teacher of the year award is given to an outstanding faculty member of CSC or to a future teacher on campus.

Hui O Kammaaina, meaning "Let's have a ball," is the motto of a unique club at CSC. Small in number compared to past years, these ambassadors of the islands are encouraging not only Hawaiians, but all students to join with them in their festive activities. "Puanani O'Hawaii," theme of this year's Lei Dance, with the unique floral arrangements was again one of the most successful dances of the year. The annual Thanksgiving dinner was held in Western Lounge with singing and entertainment. Mr. Mickey, Dr. DeBoer, and Dr. Danford invited the members into their homes for Christmas dinner. The members also took part in the intramurals program and sponsored a booth at the IK Carnival. The annual Hawaiian Club Picnic was held after the Lei Dance.

President B. J. Smith Vice President Melanie Martin Secretary Nancy Dobbs Treasurer Iris Mayeda

Home Economics Club, with its colors of red and white, strives to further the professional and social growth of its members. The women are affiliated with the Wyoming-Colorado State Association, which strives to draw interested students together and keep them in touch with state and national organizations and their projects. During fall quarter the club sponsored a halloween party for the underprivileged children in the Greeley area. Winter quarter they sponsored a program for high school girls and held a joint meeting with the men of the Industrial Arts Club. Rounding out the year was a Bridal Fashion Show, a candy sale, and the annual Rose Banquet at which time the outgoing seniors were given roses. With the aid of Miss Newburn, Home Economics Club advisor, members prepare for a quarterly tea.

One of the largest professional organizations on campus is the Industrial Arts Association which enhances and furthers professional attitudes, and increases knowledge in the industrial arts processes. This year the club worked on making stands for the weekly Mirror in campus buildings. Speakers during the year were Mrs. Berbridge, speaking on the placement of people in IA, and Max Lubbers showed and discussed his slides of Hawaii. The men gave their assistance to the Mid-Year Education Conference Committee by serving coffee, and guiding the guests around the campus. Spring quarter they visited the Shwayder Brothers Luggage Company. Aiding the Greeks, the men made and sold paddles throughout the year as a money making project.

President Anita Tait Vice President Charlie Brown Secretary Penny Cole Treasurer Nancy Irgens

Throughout the year the members of Shark Club work on the choreography and general planning for the spring quarter water show. This year the group planned the entire show around the different social groups that exist in the New York City area. The Sharks have found that the program started last year, teaching new pledges the skills of synchronized swimming, was a tremendous aid in furthering the success of this year's performance. The members hope that by sponsoring a good swim show and showing enthusiasm for swimming they may foster among the members of the CSC student body an interest in all types of swimming activities, particularly synchronized swimming. Also during the year the Sharks have attended numerous swim shows at other colleges gaining new ideas for swim activity.

Latin American Dances Highlight "Latin Festival"

President Ron Alcazar Vice President Jerry Johnson Secretary-Treasurer Cari Fike Ron Alcazar and Susan Jessup demonstrate a Latin Dance at the IRC Festival.

On a campus where the members delight in doing the dog, the continental, and the jig, Latin American Dance Club has inaugurated the special purposes of bringing such traditional dances as the rhumba, samba, mambo, meringue, and tango to the campus. For those students who desire to learn other foreign and American dances, scheduled classes are open for instruction. The club is in its third year of active organization on the campus. "Latin Festival," and a Bearslide held during fall quarter gave everyone a chance to dance their favorite dances. Winter quarter the International Relations Club sponsored an international festival at which time members of Latin American Dance Club demonstrated Latin dance American style.

Each fall quarter a number of lovely CSC coeds are chosen to serve as alternates or members of Modeling Board. The board renders modeling service, guidance, and advice to the community and campus organizations. A variety of activities kept the women quite busy this year. Mrs. Blanchard, Beauty Counselor Representative from Denver gave the girls a make-up demonstration before the spring fashion show, "Shades of Sunshine." Mr. Daniels from Gentry Shoes here in Greeley asked the women to help him select his spring foot wear. Four lessons during winter quarter from the John Robert Powers School were enjoyed by the women. In March a fashion show was given to the students and faculty of Greeley High. The women closed the year with a spring picnic.

Orchesis Presents "Dance Through the Ages"

President Ruth Austin Vice President Cindy Stowell Secretary-Treasurer Trudy Younger

Stimulating an interest in contemporary dance, the women of Orchesis perform at various functions on and off campus. This year the women of the National Contemporary Dance Organization of Orchesis aided in providing an entertaining program at the HPER Open House. Ruth Austin performed a solo dance entitled "Lost Souls," and several other women performed the "Dance of Death" which was taken from the presentation of "Dance Through the Ages." Traveling to the University of Wyoming winter quarter, the women took a master lesson from the world famous dancer Charles Weidman. April 3rd and 4th the annual Dance concert "Dance through the Ages" was performed for the public in Frasier Hall. In conjunction with the Music Department the women danced in the spring quarter production of "Guys and Dolls."

The "Dance of Death" was performed at the HPER Open House.

Majors and minors in the fields of health, physica education, and recreation are eligible to affiliate with the Gunter Guys and Gals. Maintaining an intelligent interest in HPER and the professional standards of teaching, the Tri G's have enjoyed a successful year. During the year exchange meetings were held with DU and CU. Dr. Sage and seven members of the basketball team presented a demonstration during winter quarter. Associate Professor of HPER at C.U., Frank Prentup lectured and demonstrated the uses of rope skinning in a recreational program. Each quarter is highlighted with an activity night at which time upperclassmen choose lower classmen for the sisterdaughter program. WRA Participates in Sports Days

President Gloria Gilmore Vice President Pat Hardin Secretary Betty Rohner Treasurer Barbara Bonahoom

Women's Recreation Association fosters an interest in recreational activity and develops friendship, sportsmanship, health and cooperation. The only requirements for membership are a grade average of three point and a required number of activity hours per quarter. However, participation is open to all CSC women. During fall quarter the members participated with other colleges at a Field Hockey sports day at CU. Winter quarter basketball sports day was held at CSU. Spring quarter the members traveled to Wyoming University for an archery and tennis sports day. A valuable contribution of WRA is the winter open house held in Gunter Hall for high school students. Highlighting the year the regional convention of the "Athletics and Recreation Federation for College Women'' was held on campus.

Young Republicans Discuss Civil Rights

President Patricia Robertson Vice President Jan Stone Secretary Beverly Bradford Corresponding Secretary Nona Anderson Treasurer Beverly Bourelle

To interest students in political issues and voting is the primary purpose of the Young Republican League at Colorado State College. Bill Bohlander, Assistant District Attorney of Greeley, spoke fall quarter on the "Structure of Political Parties." Winter quarter, Gail Gilbert, Resident Parliamentarian for the State of Colorado, discussed "Parliamentary Procedures." Highlighting the quarter a prominent civil rights leader, E. Caldwell, Negro Representative for Denver, spoke on the topic of "Civil Rights" and answered many of the students questions concerning the problem in Colorado. On April 10, the Young Republican League attended the Colorado Convention in Pueblo at the Holiday Inn. Patricia Robertson discusses the plans of the Young Republican Colorado Convention.

East Residence Hall Council Booth Wins

President Harry Hall Vice President Ilga Purinsh Secretary-Treasurer Susan Adams

The East Residence Hall Council is composed of a four dorm coeducational complex. Approximately one-hundred women reside in Hays and Hadden Halls; about two-hundred men reside in Cross and Troxel Halls. Mrs. Bernadine Graham, Director of the dorm complex, acts as sponsor and advisor to the men and women. The spring quarter scholarship dinner was held in Cross Hall honoring those men and women who attained a 4.0 grade average or better. The highlighting point of the year came when the East Residence Hall Council's "Jail" won the prize for the best booth at the Intercollegiate Knights fall carnival. During spring quarter the Council obtained trophy cases for the dorms. Several social functions were planned. Too many students in her room . . . Nancy Blackley resorts to the hall.

Men's Residence Hall Council comprises the main governing body of all of the men's dormitories. Mrs. Bernadine Graham, Director of the Men's Halls, acts as sponsor and advisor to the group. The annual Christmas Dinner was held in Cross Hall with many honored guests attending. The winter quarter scholarship dinner was again held at Cross Hall, honoring all men who attained a 4.0 grade average or above. Through the men's efforts a candy machine was obtained for Cross Hall. The men also planned various social functions with the women's dorms. Their main project this year was to reorganize the residence hall councils. Spring quarter the newly formed West, Central and East Residence Hall councils took on their new responsibilities.

Women's Residence Hall Council Changes Dues System

President Jan Hamacher Vice President Shirley Lambert Secretary Cindy Stowell Treasurer Susan Davis

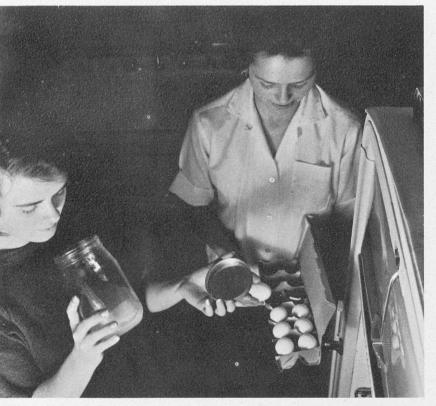

Women's Residence Hall Council is composed of elected representatives from each of the ten women's residence halls in the central area on what is commonly referred to as "the hill." The Council obtains needed facilities for all of the halls and considers all special requests. In December the annual Christmas Dinner was held in Toby-Kendel Dining Hall with many honored guests attending. A mountain trip to Cheyenne to the WRHC Regional Convention advised the women on the functions and activities of WRHC. Quarterly dues have been a problem in past years. This year the women have decided to collect dues at the beginning of each year and to refund the dues if the student drops out of school. WRHC is also responsible for the spring scholarship dinner, the Senior Dinner, and Senior Ceremonial Tea in May.

Off Campus Living — On Your Own !

School housing rules require that all students live one year in college residence halls. After a year of scheduled meals, sheet changes, and quiet hours, the sophomore sometimes finds it quite hard to adjust to a completely different atmosphere of "cook or starve, clean or move out." The typical off-campus apartment is shared by three to five students. Each person is generally responsible for specific duties with regard to the care and maintenance of the rooms as well as cooking—that bane of living away from home. A budget becomes highly important, and each, month several letters are sent home containing eager requests for extra funds.

Yet off-campus living teaches tact and poise in dealing with others. The student learns much about managing a home—and first of all, he begins to understand the problems involved in making a house into a home.

Instead of a bedtime story, Debbie decides what Santa should bring her for Christmas.

Married Students Maintain Higher Grades

According to a nation-wide survey, twenty per cent of the students in American colleges and universities are married and living in college-owned or operated housing. At Colorado State College over twentytwo per cent of the students are married. It is surprising to note that these students have consistently managed to maintain a higher academic average than non-married students on the campus. Usually they must keep up a very busy schedule, since as a rule either one or both of a couple work part-time or fulltime for the college or for one of the business offices in Greeley.

The college sponsors Jackson Field housing at a comparatively low cost for married students. The majority of these students take advantage of the opportunity to live just a few blocks east of the main campus. During summer quarter the percentage of students married and attending classes is doubled.

McCowen Hall Introduces Coeducational Living

In late August of 1963 the first coeducational residence hall at Colorado State College was completed on the west campus. With a total capacity of 500 students, Annie McCowen Hall features five floors, separate laundry and study rooms, and a combined lounge and dining room area. The colorful modern decor of the main floor lounges attracts residents and visitors for card playing, informal meetings, and social activities. Students also enjoy the privilege of using self-operated elevators as well as television rooms and special pajama lounges on the third floor.

Both rear landscaping and the unused fifth floor are expected to be completed by the fall of 1964. Tentative plans are being made for the provision of a tennis court beyond the spacious patio. Students of every grade level are presently residing in the hall. CSC's initial attempt to provide for coeducational living is proving to be a huge success.

Residence Hall Directors Have Various Duties

Knowing where the girls are is only one of Mrs. Kessenich's duties.

Each Tuesday afternoon Dean Stuckey meets with the directors of the ten women's residence halls and Dean Oppelt meets with the directors of the three men's halls. At these meetings the directors discuss how to handle various student problems, the philosophy of resident housing, what is happening socially and academically on campus, and how they, the directors, relate to the campus. These people have the never-ending duties of checking students in and out of the halls each quarter, seeing that students obey hours and rules, and a multitude of unforseen activities and problems which must be appropriately taken care of during the course of the year.

Music Educators' Conference Publicizes Concerts

President Maylois Munday Vice President Jane Oyler Secretary-Treasurer Carol Wall

The activities for the Colorado State College Music Educators' National Conference chapter began in October with a membership drive headed by the officers. One of the main responsibilities MENC has assumed this year is the advertisement of all the Greeley Concert Association's Series to the CSC student body. In November the members sponsored a tea for the Burke Family Singers. At a fall chili supper Lloyd Jensen, graduate student at CSC and former secretary for the CMEA spoke on the organization and function of that association. Jean Berger an eminent twentieth century composer spoke at one of the January recital hours. Other programs presented during the year included a discussion of practices of music education in other countries, and a demonstration of the music activities of the special education children in the CSC Laboratory School.

Pride of the Rockies Generates School Spirit

Tom Sepulveda finds last minute preparations always necessary before a concert.

Unique to the Colorado State College campus is the women's division of the famous Pride of the Rockies Marching Band. At football games and other collegiate activities, both sections of the hundred-member band perform intricate steps in accompaniment to their music. Often such modern and popular selections as "West Side Story" and "Oklahoma" comprise the half-time entertainment on the field. Each afternoon band members are required to practice at least two hours during the fall and one hour during winter and spring quarters.

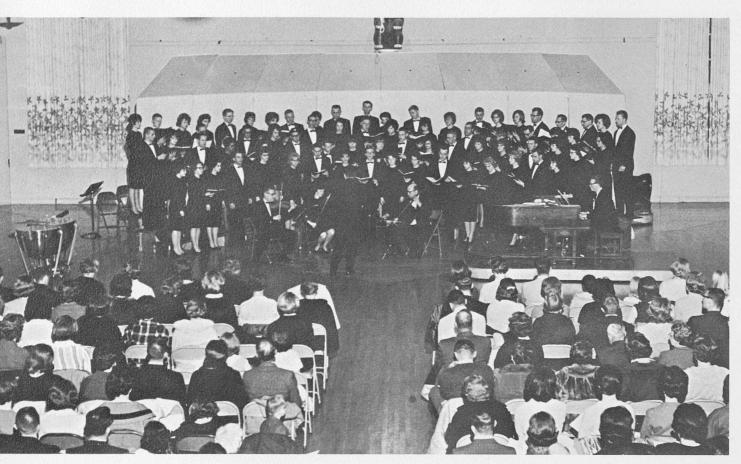

The Symphonic Concert Band gears much of its practice time toward preparation for the annual statewide tour of public high schools. The Concert Band also presents one major program for the students on campus each quarter, along with several smaller productions for the benefit of the music faculty and interested college students.

Many hours of practice are also done by the Symphonic Concert Band shown here practicing with Concert Choir in preparation for the annual Christmas Concert.

Many hours of drill are required for fine halftime entertainment.

The Spring concert was presented by Concert Choir in the Ballroom after members returned from their annual tour.

Vocal Groups Tour Colorado

Five major vocal ensembles plus a number of smaller choral groups attract students from the music division along with a surprisingly large number of non-music majors. Organizations include the Mixed Concert Choir, Men or Women's Concert Choir, Madrigal Singers, Chamber Singers, Opera, and several smaller and more specialized ensembles.

From March 17 to March 24 the Mixed Choir toured high schools in Colorado and presented a comprehensive program of classical and religious musical scores. Eight schools were entertained, after which the Choir returned for a final performance for CSC students.

Throughout the school year vocal ensembles are asked to entertain at local dinners, honorary recognition banquets, and scheduled all-school recitals. Dr. Marvin George directs Madrigal Singers in preparation for a Spring concert.

Retreats Attended by Baptist Student Union

President Kay Fizer Vice-President Dave McQuitty Secretary-Treasurer Charlene Webber

Acting as a connecting link between the campus and the Hillside Baptist Church the members of Baptist Student Union seek to help students find their way to God. The only requirement for membership is that of being a student at CSC. B.S.U. provides fellowship and worship to all who wish to participate with them in their studies of Christian faith. A morning watch is held each Thursday morning in the Upper Council Room of the Student Union. Throughout the year they have listened to various interesting speakers and held many discussions. The Baptist Student Union here at Colorado State College joined with all other BSU organizations in Colorado and Wyoming during fall quarter for a retreat at Laramie, Wyoming. A winter quarter retreat was held at Estes Park. Silver Cliff Ranch near Buena Vista was the sight of the spring retreat.

Panel discussions are a part of the weekly activities.

Various speakers come before the group throughout the year.

At the Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday evenings the members of Bethel Fellowship meet to further their knowledge of the lord, and to have fun and fellowship in His name. During the year the fellowship has sponsored car wash work days to earn money to buy a turntable amplifying system for the church. The members have also enjoyed films, singspirations, socials, numerous guest speakers and a retreat at Old Man Mountain Cabin near Estes Park. Various speakers have included: Reverend Hayes, professor at the Conservant Baptist Theological Seminary, speaking on "Committed Christians," and "The Laws of Prayer," Bob Harrison, pharmacist, "Christ's Claim on Time." All of these activities enable Baptist students to enjoy a spirit of faith, companionship, and fun throughout the year.

Campus Crusade Increases Membership

President Douglas Rickard Vice President Bob Koenig Secretary Pam Andrews Treasurer Karen Headberg

Fostering a knowledge of Jesus Christ and Biblical Christianity among the students of Colorado State College is the purpose of Campus Crusade for Christ International. Founded in 1951 at UCLA and established on the CSC campus in 1962, the young fellowship is growing in popularity among CSC students as shown by the fifty percent increase in this years membership. A retreat was held at the Estes Park YMCA Camp during the fall and Jim Craddock and Jim Hiskey, All-American Golfers were special guest speakers. At the winter retreat John Flack, National Men's Representative gave an inspirational message for the Crusaders. Diane Ross, National Women's Representative was guest speaker at a Girl's Brunch during the winter. College life meetings are held weekly with special speakers.

Walter Steitz informs members of Campus Crusade of the activities planned for winter quarter.

Prior to Sunday evening meetings, a fellowship dinner is held at the Canterbury house.

Tro Christo Ad Collegium Per Ecclesiam is the Latin motto meaning Christ by the college and the church. Each day three services are held, Morning Prayer, Holy Communion, and Evening Prayer. Each Sunday evening the members have a supper and meeting which is closed with Compline. An active fall and winter quarter included ministers and special guests speaking on the topics of "The place and authority of the Ordained Ministry," and the "Creeds in the Church." The annual coeducational joint retreat at the YMCA camp at Estes Park was an inspirational highlight for members from CSC, CWC, CSU, and DU. "The Sacraments of the Church" was the theme for Spring quarter and a retreat for college women at St. Ann's Convent closed an inspiring year.

The local chapter of Chi Alpha is geared to meet the four fold emphasis of worship, training, fellowship, and service. As a new religious organization on campus they had various speakers, bible studies and worship services. Reverend Darrel Madsen, Chi Alpha Leader for the Rocky Mountain District helped the group organize by discussing with them at the first meeting "Getting Organized," Reverend James Maley, of Stoneham, Colorado, spoke on "Personal Witness on Campus," Reverend Harold Maley on "Conducting the Seminar," and Lee Shultz, National Director of Chi Alpha explained to the members what was available to them as members of Chi Alpha. Meetings are held each Sunday evening at the First Assembly of God Church.

The objectives of Gamma Delta are to foster the study of the Bible, to desseminate the scriptural philosophy of life, to train students for Christian service, to increase Lutheran consciousness locally and on the CSC campus. An active fall quarter included a coffee for new students and transfers, a workshop for the officers, the annual Founder's Day Banquet in Boulder, a hayride and barn dance, and a bowling party. Winter quarter discussion topics were "Free Will," "Liturgy," and "Absenteeism—Whose Fault?" A retreat with other Gamma Delta chapters held at the YWCA camp at Estes Park was an inspirational time for all concerned. To bear witness to the Lord Jesus Christ, to deepen and strengthen the spiritual life of students through prayer and bible study, to present the call of God to the foreign mission field, and to befriend and win to Christ students from abroad strengthening their faith in Christianity, these are the objectives of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. Various speakers including Dr. Bob Smith, from Bethel College speaking on "The Ninth Chapter of John," and "And Man's Eyes Were Open . . . , " Bud Trimble chose the topic "Tools of Living a Christian Life," Mr. Straford spoke on "Foreign Missions." Bible studies are carried on weekly in the dorms conducted by Walter Steitz, sponsor, or Reverend Osterburg. The annual Valentine Banquet was held in Denver at the Little Banquet Restaurant.

Singspiration is enjoyed after a Friday night meeting.

It is the policy of the Lutheran Students Association to set up a topic for each quarter, organizing its weekly programs under that main heading. Winter quarter, the topic discussed was the Apocryphal. Mr. Corklin Courtney, instructor at the Laboratory School, discussed the "Catholic feeling about the Apocryphal Books." This year a special room has been fixed up at the Lutheran House called "Martin's Coffee Shop." The room was named after Martin Luther; rolls, tea, and coffee may be purchased there anytime of the day. A hootenanny was sponsored spring quarter; Vern Olson, music major from D.U. played his accordian and sang. During the year the members enjoyed several mountain retreats.

"To deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of religious, intellectual and social activities," is the purpose of all Newman Club Chapters. Although the club has been on campus for forty years, the CSC center was not opened until 1958 by the financial support and interest of his Excellency, Archbishop Vehr. During the year various speakers have included Father Teeling, from Regis, speaking on "Life's Mystery in Literature," and Dr. Vattano, professor of psychology at Denver University, spoke on "Psychology of Newman." Other activities included Newman Institute Classes, Spaghetti Hootenanies, Days of Recollection, Senior Dinner, and annual mountain picnics which open and close the year. Making religion relevant in the life of the college student is the aim of Wesley Foundation students affiliated with the First Methodist Church. Cheerleaders Encourage School Spirit

Two, four, six eleven! And men too! Colorado State College was represented during the 1963-64 athletic season by eleven cheerleaders, three of them men. The display of energy and spirit shown by all of the cheerleaders never ceased to amaze the spectators. As soon as a time-out was called, the cheerleaders were out in front of the crowds cheering the team on to victory.

Anyone interested in trying out must learn certain required cheers and present them at the semifinal auditions. On October 1 fifteen contestants were chosen to compete in the finals on October 2. From these fifteen, the final six regular and two alternate cheerleaders were chosen. The girls were judged on public compose, personality in cheering, coordination, agility, voice, and their answers to questions about cheering situations which were asked by the judges. Track Team Coupes Second in RMC

Plagued by a season of inevitable second places, the BEARS also ended the season with a second place in the Rocky Mountain Conference meet behind front running Colorado Mines. The team did a commendable job, however, in capturing second place. John Plummer concluded a brilliant track career by scoring $14\frac{1}{2}$ points. Plummer set a conference record in the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches. He also tied in the high jump for first and won the 220 yard dash. Other winners for the CSC team were Henry Hladik in the 440, Ron Welch in the 100 yard dash, and the mile relay team of Hladik, Jim Hollowell, Ed Greivel, and Chuck Carlson.

Golf Team Completes First Season

Fore! ... Putt ... Drive ... Iron ... These are words that rang out on the Highland Hills golf course on April 12, 1963, as the first official CSC golf team opened against Colorado State University. Despite the enthusiasm of the new team, the first six meets were met in defeat. But as the season progressed, so did the CSC team. With a $22\frac{1}{2}$ win over Colorado Mines $4\frac{1}{2}$, the BEARS evened up their record with four straight wins. The golf team completed their first season with a total 5 wins and 8 losses.

Leading players for the CSC team were Les Mattocks and Jim Wilson, with average scores of 76.4 and 78.6 respectfully. Coach Howard Danford was quite pleased with the effort of the team in their first year of inter-collegiate competition.

Bears Score Twenty-second RMC Championship

The rampaging Colorado State College baseball team ended Rocky Mountain Conference play by overpowering Adams State College, 20-3 and 16-2 at Alamosa. In winning their twenty-second consecutive conference championship, the BEARS compiled a 12-0 conference record.

Colorado State College, by virtue of their RMC championship, earned a berth in the District 7 playoffs for the right to go to the college world series in Omaha.

Two CSC baseball players, catcher Duane Banks and outfielder Ron Bettinger, were named to the All-District 7 first team, which was almost completely dominated by Arizona Wildcats. Bettinger also captured the team batting championship with a .439 average. Pitchers Eddie Dyer and John Barns, first baseman Jack Miyamoto, third baseman Bob Bettinger, catcher Duane Banks, centerfielder Wally Livingston, and rightfielder Ron Bettinger received the honor of being placed on the All-RMC team.

Kick off! With this familiar action the Colorado State College football team began their 1963 gridiron season in a clash with Ft. Lewis A&M losing 7-14. In the weeks following the Bears could not reach their peak performance resulting in losses to South Dakota State 14-50, and Western State College 0-27. But before a record homecoming crowd of 5,500 the Bear eleven combined their strength and experience, and handed Colorado College a 32-13 loss, only to be dropped again by a succeeding loss to Adams State College 0-21. Undaunted, the Bears continued the 1963 season overpowering New Mexico Highlands and Chadron State College 55-0 and 41-0 respectively. Losing to New Mexico Western 14-23, the Bears concluded their season with a 4-5 record.

Center Jim Leamer received the honor of being named to the 1963 All-Rocky Mountain Conference football team.

The Bear eleven was coached during the 1963 season by Mr. Bill Heiss who succeeded former head football coach Joe Lindahl upon his appointment as Assistant Director of Athletics for Colorado State College.

Bears Play in NCAA Small College Play-offs

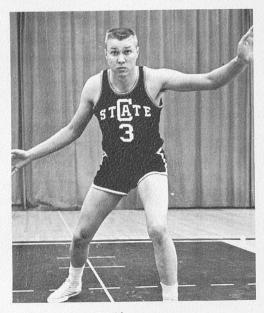

Colorado State College's 1963-1964 basketball season was the best in the school's 74 year history. Never before had any CSC team won more than 15 games during a season. Due to circumstances beyond CSC's control, the BEARS had to cancel their last two games and thus lost the RMC title to Adams State College by percentage points.

Also for the first time in the school's history, Colorado State College was invited to play in the NCAA Small College Regional Playoffs. The team journeyed to Beaumont, Texas, for a tourney with Southeast Missouri State, Lamar Tech, and Abilene Christian. Missouri whipped the BEARS in the first game, 83-79, and went on to win the tourney. Coach George Sage felt Joe Folda, Rod Holst, and Gail Johnson showed outstanding ability in the tourney as well as throughout the season.

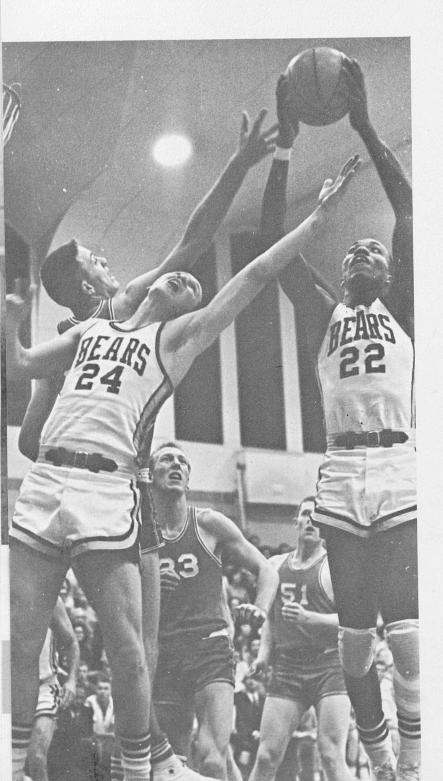

Rod Holst finished the season with an 18.0 point scoring average and concluded his career with the label as CSC's greatest center.

CSC wrestling teams, under the coaching of John Hancock, have won the Rocky Mountain Conference title for the last 27 years, and the 1963-1964 season added number 28 to the long roster of years. Only twice have the matmen ever tied for the championship. The matmen hosted this year's RMC Meet and advanced six men to the finals. The same six took individual titles to give the BEARS their 28th consecutive title as they continue to dominate the conference in wrestling. Don Neff started the BEARS off in the final round as he won the decision in the 123-pound class. Jim Innis took home a first place in the 157pound class for the second straight year. In winning his second straight title, Jack Flasche showed the ability that has earned him a place on the first team All-American at 167.

Colorado State College also forged ahead in the MIWA Tournament overpowering eight other schools to take the title. The BEARS scored 69 points to take the rule from Western State College, the defending champions.

Mermen Swim to RMC Championship

Spectators watch with admiration as Ron Jackson performs his dive.

The Colorado State College Swimming Team accumulated 146 points to place first in the Rocky Mountain Conference meet, held in Gunnison. Ten records were broken or tied in the conference, six of them by BEAR Swimmers. Swimming Coach Bud Best called the Mermen's performance in the conference the greatest ever in the history of CSC's Swimming team. Four of the record setting performances also established new school records. Ed Mc-Collugh set three records in the freestyle, Les Ibara set one in the individual medley, Daryl Esch one in the breaststroke, and the 400-yard medley relay team one.

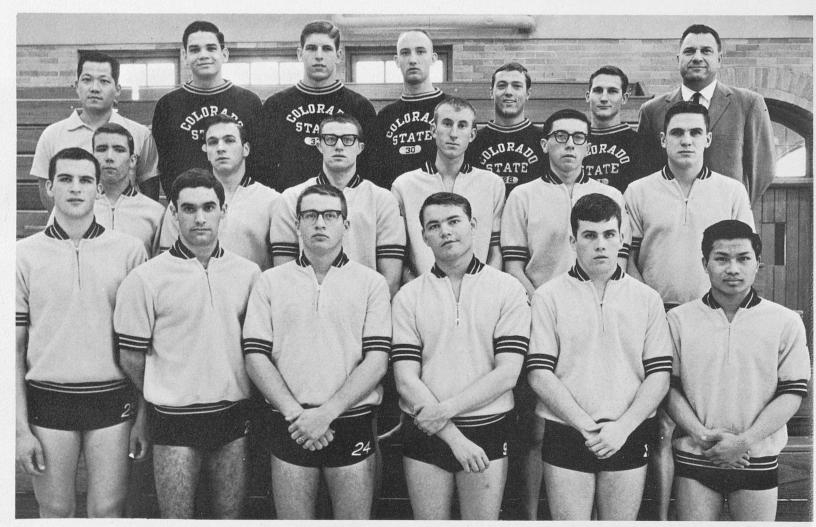

The team showed their great potential throughout the 1963-1964 season. They compiled a total of 11 wins and 3 losses topping any previous season record. The 1964-1965 season looks very bright with all of the record-breaking winners returning.

The spirit of competition is high as CSC pulls ahead in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Gymnasts Show Strong Potential

Rebuilding is a word that ably describes the 1964 Gymnastic season. With most of the lettermen having graduated, Gymnastic Coach Tony Rossi spent the season developing the potential of the new men on the team. With a varsity squad loaded with sophomores and juniors and a freshman squad rich in talent, Coach Rossi feels that the next year or two could produce one of his finest teams in 15 years as head coach.

Colorado State College came against strong and experienced competition throughout the season. Profiting by their mistakes, the BEARS compiled a 5-5 season record topping the previous season.

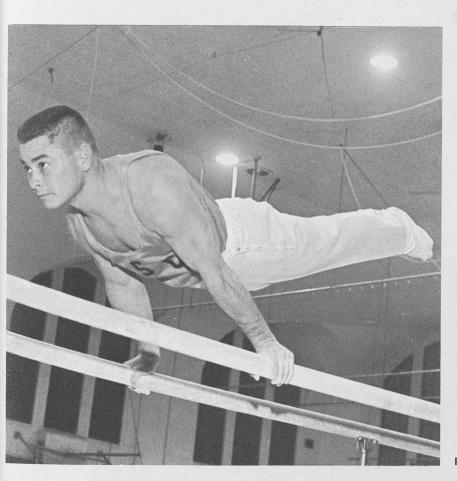

Sophomores Terry Pershing and Courtney Willis lead the gymnasts in final point standings. Pershing accumulated a total of $137\frac{1}{2}$ points, and Willis $133\frac{1}{2}$ points. Pershing and Willis also performed in the NGAA Meet. This is the first time in several years that CSC has entered gymnasts in the national meet.

New Programs

Fun, excitement, and activity are three words that ably describe CSC's intramural program. Through the direction of Dr. Max Shirley, the program is sponsored for students who do not participate in any varsity athletics during that particular quarter.

The intramural program has met hearty success with CSC students, and new programs have been added to meet the increasing number of students participating in the various intramural sports.

The first Intramural Track and Field meet to be held at Colorado State College last spring quarter was won by Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. The Tekes took seven firsts and placed in every event for a total of 60 points.

Graduates Move Into Cottage

With the official opening of the Graduate Center last spring, it has become the social center of the graduate students, faculty, and administrative members. Here is where friendship, ideas, and studying creates an intellectual atmosphere for all.

The Center, which is located in the old home economics cottage, is the product of several years of detailed planning by representatives of the graduate students at CSC. The Center is dependent financially upon the use of its facilities. It is designed to serve as a communication and fellowship center, and to create an informal setting for discussion among the students from various departments and backgrounds. Many services are provided at the center for the grad students.

The old home economic cottage is put to good use.

Bridge is a favorite past-time of many CSC students.

Enjoying a coke break on a lazy afternoon is this CSC twosome.

Many "bargains" can be found in the bookstore.

CSC coeds and Mike Rossi observe Pom-Pom Girls in practice.

Student Union lounges afford students various pleasures.

Bru Inn is a melting pot for catching up on the latest news, academic and social.

Individual Activities Are Numerous . . .

Hi Bridge, winter or summer, is always a common meeting place.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

In Memoriam.

• On November 22, 1963, a great American . . . a leader . . . a man truly dedicated to the basic principles upon which our nation is founded, died at the hands of an assassin. Words fail to express the feelings of the people of our country—or the world—at the time of this stark tragedy. Simply, we say, it is you, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, that we—the students and the faculty of Colorado State College—the citizens of the United States of America—do so humbly remember for the influence and the mark which you have left on our nation's history. . . . This will never be forgotten—a part of you still lives.

—The Editor November 22, 1963

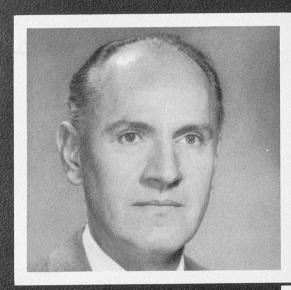

Flags flew at half mast . .

. . . . while a nation mourned.

In Memoriam

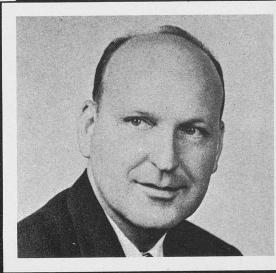

Dr. Kenneth J. Hansen

Dr. Kenneth J. Hansen, Chairman of the Business Department, passed away of a heart attack on March 15, 1963. Dr. Hansen earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Washington, located in his hometown, Seattle. His doctorate in education was earned at Columbia University. Perhaps Dr. Hansen's finest ideal was his concern for students who had the ability but not the finances to attain a college education. We remember him for this.

Dr. John S. Welling

Dr. John S. Welling, Professor of Social Sciences, died on July 3, 1963, after an extended illness. Dr. Welling, a native of Troy, N. Y., was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., and earned his master's degree in sociology and history from Columbia University. His doctorate in education was earned at New York University. A popular professor on campus, always seen talking with his students, we remember "Doc" Welling for his encouragement and personal concern for all his students.

Dr. Herman M. Williams

Dr. Herman M. Williams, Associate Professor of Education, passed away on June 22, 1963, following surgery at Denver General Hospital. Dr. Williams was graduated from Randolph-Macon College at Ashland, Virginia. Both his master of arts and Ph.D. degrees were earned at the University of Virginia. A native of Norfolk, Virginia, Dr. Williams had thirty years of educational service in his home state before joining the CSC faculty in 1959. For these outstanding years of contributions to education we remember him.
